AN APPRECIATION

At this commencement time we were honored to have as our guests Dr. D. J. Waller, a former president of the college, and former Governor John S. Fisher, an alumnus of Indiana. We recalled also the services to Indiana of Jane E. Leonard and Dr. John A. H. Keith. Many of the alumni recalled days spent at Indiana during the presidency of Dr. James E. Ament who is now President of National Park Seminary, Washington, D.C. To these friends of Indiana and to Dr. Charles R. Foster, our president, our appreciation has not been better expressed than in the following tribute written by Jean McIlroy Whitmyre and delivered at the Alumni Luncheon in 1929. Mrs. Whitmyre was a member of the class of 1929 at which time she received the degree of Bachelor of Science in Public School Music.

*O Spirit of Indiana, take these your newest ones—
Hear them say, and help them in the saying,
"We would be loyal."
We would be loyal.
Thus we would come to you
In our first hour
Asking for help to be—not asking knowledge of what it is—
That you, her children, have held high
And given to the world
That places Indiana where all look up to her
For that we know.
We know the men and women
Who have flung Indiana's banner to the sky
And kept that banner spotless in the sky's fresh flowing blue
Flaunting a challenge we cannot resist.
We would realize our loyalty
To those who have gone before
And add these loyalties of ours to yours
And so we pray
We would be loyal.*

*We would be loyal to Faith
And so we think of one
Enshrined in the hearts of all
Who knew Indiana in the first half century of its being
And knowing Indiana, must needs know her.
For she was Indiana to the world.
But of all she was
One thing there is that made her life
And lives on in those whom she inspired
Lives on in Indiana's memory
And will live on while walls shall stand*

And people be.
 One thing! And that is Faith.
 Faith in her God.
 Her gentle voice still lingers here.
 Can you not hear it?
 Listen! Look with me!
 She stands beside the pulpit
 Just as the sun makes eventide.
 She stands with eyes half closed
 In the awed silence of the chapel.
 Silence and sunset!
 And the voice clear and sweet saying—
     "I know not where His islands
     Lift their fronded palms in air.
     I only know I cannot drift
     Beyond His love and care."
 We hear it too, and God seems very near.
 And so we pray
 Jane Leonard, give us of your spirit
 And help us be loyal to Faith.

We would be loyal to Culture,
 Culture that bespeaks true refinement
 True training of moral power
 As well as that of mind;
 Culture that makes kindness of heart,
 Reserved and gentle speech, and courteous manner,
 Profound training, deeply rooted in wholesome morality;
 Culture that makes the gentleman and the gentlewoman
 Filled with knowledge that gives power
 For good.
 And so we pray,
 Dr. Jewett Waller, give us of your grace
 And help us be loyal to Culture.

We would be loyal to Service,
 Service that lifts us out of ordinary petty egoisms.
 We are ourselves, but we would forget ourselves
 In Service;
 Forget self as did the Suttons and the Clarks
 In the dark days of the beginnings
 When more than self was given that this our school might live.
 With us to-day there is one
 Who links us with the past
 Self ever forgotten, when he and his

Can Serve.

And so we pray,

Thomas Sutton, give us of your devotion

And help us be loyal to Service.

We would be loyal to Progress.

We would not be self satisfied.

Complacency may make us dull.

Let us not pause, but yearning in desire to follow knowledge,

Go on.

Fulfill the inspiration born

At dawn of day,

Like him who came, filled with the love of beauty,

Saw the work which faced him here and boldly wrought.

The buildings beautified, the campus groomed,

He then the buildings filled.

Such numbers here as were beyond all dreams.

A higher plane he reached than had been here before.

And so we pray,

Dr. James Ament, give us of your energy

And help us be loyal to Progress.

We would be loyal to our State,

Our State from whom we get such gifts as we find here.

Our State, the keystone of our lives

As of the colonies of old.

Beautiful. Strong. Great.

We would be citizens to make you proud

Your school has trained us.

We would such ones of yours as that son is one

Chosen to rule by all the State

For goodness and integrity

To Principle.

And so we pray,

John S. Fisher, give us of your patriotism

And help us be loyal to our State.

We would be loyal to our Profession,

To teach, to educate.

What idealists we should be.

What visions we must have to guide us on.

We look to one who sees the highway clear

That leads into the future

An idealist but practical,

Realizing and energizing the constructive forces

*Of men and nations.
Knowing that in this is the beginning,
In this the end
Of education.
And so we pray,
Dr. John A. H. Keith, give us a vision
And help us be loyal to our Profession.*

*We would be loyal to our Fellow Man,
To trust in man,
To bear him cheerfully in sorest need,
To bear him hopefully in little sorrows
That seem so great,
To bear him patiently in the sick hurry of hour
Hastening after hour.
Night counts her rosary of stars too soon
So let us do while day is here
As he, who in our midst does show
By every act and thought, his love for man.
Who "Feels the world an open road
Linking up from end to end
Man, with fellow man, his friend."
And so we pray
Dr. Charles Foster, give us of your humanity
And help us be loyal to our Fellow Man.*

*O Spirit of Indiana, take this the class of 1929
Hear them say, and help them in the saying,
We would be loyal.*

THE COLLEGE AND ITS ALUMNI

CHARLES R. FOSTER

President, State Teachers College, Indiana, Pennsylvania

Since the last number of the Alumni News Bulletin was issued, I have had the opportunity of participating in a number of the meetings of the local units of the Alumni Association. This has been a real pleasure. I have been greatly impressed with the fine spirit of enthusiasm and loyalty exhibited toward our Alma Mater upon these occasions. The meetings of the local units are going to be the real test of the success of the new form of organization which has been functioning for two years.

I have been greatly encouraged by the support the College has had through the alumni units in contacting legislators for adequate state support; for contributions to the Jane E. Leonard Memorial Student Loan Fund; for the new students you have sent to Indiana, and for many other definite things which have been done during this last year for the College.

The attendance of alumni during commencement week activities was an inspiration to all of us. Alumni Day has come to be one of the great days of the year. How greatly pleased we were to have fourteen of the fifty year class with us, and large numbers of other reuning classes.

We are looking forward to the new college year with enthusiasm and are determined, with the help of the alumni, to make steady progress in the development of the institution.

THE SECOND YEAR UNDER THE UNIT PLAN

VERA AMY SIMPSON

President of the General Alumni Association

1933-1935

The real test of any effort does not come when it is being initiated. Then enthusiasm runs high; the appeal of newness wins many followers; leaders are eager to experiment; and those outside the movement are waiting anxiously to see how it works out. This frequently serves as a spur to greater effort. There is, indeed, an impetus which is almost self-governing. It is, in fact, in the second stages that the permanency of an idea is actually tested.

The unit plan of organization for the alumni of Indiana is now in what may certainly be called a well-advanced stage. And I note with greatest pleasure no diminution of effort. On the contrary there has been in this second year more enthusiasm; more actual work; more contacts with the College; a greater variety of activities; and a better understanding of the problems of the school than during the first year. These facts should be a source of very great satisfaction to all of the alumni, as they are to me.

I should like to list the following achievements of the year which seem to me particularly notable:

1. Our legislative set-up has functioned most efficiently. As General Legislative Chairman, Mrs. Agnes Bulford, formulated a working plan which enabled our alumni to contact legislators and impress them with the importance of providing adequate support for Teachers Colleges.

2. Systematic contacting of prospective students by alumni groups is now a part of the program of many of the units and outstanding work along this line has been done. This activity should become an integral part of the program of every group, and a definite technique for carrying on this activity should be developed.

3. Our Executive Council has functioned well. It is serving adequately as a permanent tie between the College and the alumni groups.

4. Practically all units have contributed to the Jane E. Leonard Memorial Student Loan Fund. These gifts have ranged in amount from one dollar to more than one hundred dollars. Whether large or small, they have been equally appreciated. I want very much to see our Loan Fund reach the $25,000 mark.

5. The publication of an alumni bulletin is again under way. I feel that this is an essential part of our organization machinery. It must, of course, be supported by the alumni.

6. The fact that every active unit has made itself felt in the local community and in so doing has done a very worth while thing for Indiana is a matter of great importance. The right kind of publicity is a valuable asset to any institution, and certainly the activities sponsored by the Indiana

Units have been a very fine recommendation for the school.

In enumerating these outstanding achievements of the year, I am seeing the organization as a whole. Individually, every one who has participated in the alumni work has doubtless found personal satisfaction. To me, personally, my second year as your president has been most gratifying. I said last year that I had the utmost confidence that the attainments of the second year under our new plan of organization would far surpass those of the first year. My prediction was well founded, for in every phase of our work by actual check I find that we have both intensified and extended our activities. In relinquishing my office as President of the General Alumni Association, I want to express my very great appreciation for the fine spirit of cooperation shown by all of the alumni. If the work of these two years serves to change our loyalty to Indiana from a deeply subjective to a very active and functioning interest in her welfare, then certainly they have been well worth while. I want to bespeak for our new president the same splendid effort and enthusiasm which you have shown during the past two years.

THE NEW PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

To the Alumni:

Finding myself upon the threshold of a new type of service for Indiana Alumni, that of your leader and president, I am glad to have this opportunity of greeting you and talking, ever so briefly, of future plans. The experimental stage of our organization has passed, and there has been created a structure of such strength as to form a worthy foundation for future building effort. As is the case with all rapid development of organization, we are going to find a few weak spots and these must be reinforced as soon as possible. Units which had glowing beginnings but for various reasons have become altogether inactive or less enthusiastic must receive help and encouragement. However, our first line of procedure, I feel, must be one of study as to next year's aims so that we may set for ourselves a goal toward which our efforts may be directed. This goal should not be so impossible as to be discouraging, but it must be sufficiently high to be worth while.

What a fine thing it would be if every graduate of our school were doing his part in this forward movement! This, of course, is a rather idealistic goal and yet greater membership is certainly the cornerstone of all our building. I wish that in the coming year every unit would strive harder than ever before to reach all alumni in their communities. Invite them to the meetings and do not be discouraged if they fail to accept the first invitation. Have them understand that it is they who are wanted, their presence and their interest, not what they can do or give. Be sure to contact the new graduates and then, most important, we must tell the people of our various communities how much Indiana has to offer, the fineness of the school spirit, and the practical training gained here which definitely prepares its graduates for specific types of work.

Our Jane E. Leonard Memorial Student Loan Fund has been increased very materially during the last two years by the efforts of our groups, and this good work must be continued. It is such a happy thought to know that every dollar given not only helps some student to graduate and become a more useful and happy citizen, but back comes the money to take care of another and yet another student. This permanent feature is the thing which makes our work for the Loan Fund so worthwhile.

In the past, everyone has been so anxious to help, I am sure this spirit will continue. It is not the brilliant work of a few people which will make the alumni association a success, but rather each unit doing its best in its own small way with a definite aim and objective.

Greatly increased membership, an earnest effort to promote good fellowship and sympathetic understanding and helpfulness in all our unit activities, as well as effort for the growth of our scholarship fund are not unattainable goals for the coming year. If in the end we have not entirely succeeded, we shall not be discouraged, but rather shall we take satisfaction in the thought that success is not measured by the distance we arrive from the goal but rather by the distance we have traveled from our starting point.

I wish for all graduates of Indiana happiness and success in the coming year's work.

Very sincerely,

AGNES DOUDS BULFORD (Mrs. D. N. Bulford)
100 East North Avenue
N. S., Pittsburgh, Pa.

THE SECOND HOME-COMING BRINGS MANY ALUMNI TO THE CAMPUS

Home-coming, October 20, was a red letter day at Indiana. The returning of alumni for this annual event was motivated not only by spontaneous individual enthusiasm for the Alma Mater, but by a group enthusiasm engendered in the meetings of the more than fifty alumni units, which have been organized throughout western Pennsylvania. The Home-coming was the crystallization of the spirit of these separate organizations. The "back to Indiana" movement is growing; the associations between the school and her students bid fair to become life-long bonds.

The day was perfect. The football game with Indiana's victory over Edinboro contributed much to the "perfect day." The night sent forth a near-full moon to beam approvingly upon the presentation of the swing-out pageant, "The Quest of the Goddess Athena." The East Campus offered a beautiful natural setting for the symbolic representation of the evolution of the College. Through Miss Sprowls' and Miss Knowles' skillful arrangement of dance and pantomime, the scenes unfolded to the eyes of a delighted audience.

A dancing group of trees represented the forest primeval when William Penn and the Indians established peace and friendship and gave the woods its name, Pennsylvania.

The struggle of the early settlers against famine, fever, sickness, and death, through faith to victory, as vividly depicted by dancing groups, was thought-provoking as well as awe-inspiring.

The Scotch and Irish dances pantomimed their friendship with the Indians and the crowning of the Indian, Diana, which established the name, Indiana.

The fourteen Ladies of Learning, representing the State Normal Schools, lighted their torches at the fire that Franklin drew from the sky. Our Lady in her somber slate gown was garlanded with red by the Elves, thus getting her colors the Red and Slate. Agriculture, the sole support of the school, was portrayed by a Harvest Revel. This dance was interrupted by the Sheriff, who came to carry off our Lady of Learning. Immediately Industry came to her aid. Coal Miners, Laborers, Citizens, all came with their gifts until the Sheriff was paid.

Our Lady of Learning with her court moved into the Temple of Learning—The State Teachers College of Indiana.

In cap and gown the seniors came swinging into the picture, bringing it up to the present and filling all our hearts with a deep pride in our College—past and present.

Following the presentation of the pageant, the Alumni dance was held in recreation hall. This informal party was a fitting close of the day's activities. Home-coming is an established custom at Indiana. The date for the third Home-coming is October twelfth. Plan to be in Indiana on that day to meet old friends.

PLACEMENT SERVICE

JENNIE M. ACKERMAN

Director of Training

The placement of graduates of Indiana, in the various curricula, has become a major problem, but one which to date is being reasonably well solved. This is not to be interpreted, however, as a statement that everyone who has gone out from us during the past few years with legal certification to teach has found a teaching position. In these times, in the teaching field, we cannot report—as in more prosperous days, 98% employment; but neither does that high figure hold good now in any line of service.

Indiana is highly gratified, however, that statistics on placement show that on October first, nineteen thirty-four, the percentage for all curricula was 64%; this continued to rise during the year to nearly 67%. The prospects for the present year are far from discouraging. It is too soon to accurately calculate percentages, but reports from school officials, department heads and from the students themselves indicate that somewhat over one hundred who have earned certification in various fields have already signed contracts for the coming year; still others report that the prospects for them in the June and July elections look exceedingly bright.

Our alumni may be interested to know that although as an institution we have no obligation to secure a school for every graduate, Indiana is doing everything possible to this end; much time and effort are expended by the Director of Training, who is in general charge of the placement work, and by the heads of the departments in giving help in a professional and ethical way.

We owe much to the children of the state and to school officials who are interested in developing fine school systems. We must be honorable in recommending our candidates. In our desire to "sell our product" we must not forget that it is highly important to do what we can to put the right teacher in the right place. To recommend extravagantly a teacher of mediocre ability, simply that she may secure preferment above other applicants, is not our idea of honest, professional placement; nor is it fair to school systems seeking aid, nor to our young teachers themselves. We find that frank statements based upon the scholastic and student teaching records and an honest and sympathetic evaluation of personal qualities are greatly appreciated by school authorities in general, even though in such statements certain weaknesses, together with their compensatory qualities, may be pointed out. There is usually a "right place" to be found for everyone whom we graduate; the probability of happiness and success is far greater if attention is given not alone to helping the graduate secure a position of "some kind," "somewhere," but in helping him to find the position which he is best adapted to fill.

The type of placement service rendered by the College has changed in character in the past few years. In the special fields—Home Economics, Business Education, Art and Music—we are asked to suggest candidates, forward records, arrange interviews, at the College or elsewhere. In the so-called "regular courses"—Primary, Intermediate and Secondary, there are, nearly always, for every vacancy literally dozens of applicants (sometimes a hundred or more) already in the field. The placement activities here consist largely in forwarding credentials, answering questions regarding personality, disposition and general teaching fitness, and in helping school officials in their efforts to choose the best from among the many whose applications must be seriously considered. Superintendents, principals and school board members, as a rule, are honestly and deeply concerned with the problem of securing a capable teacher for every school room, but local pressure, due to economic stress, is sometimes very strong and often defeats the best intentioned efforts. Intelligent advice regarding the particular place in the system which the newly elected teacher is best qualified to fill is generally deeply appreciated and may condition the success of an inexperienced graduate. A sincere young teacher, without marked strength or skill, may, if advantageously placed and sympathetically guided through the first year, develop very satisfactorily and in time may reach a very creditable or even high standard of efficiency. It is to be hoped that in the not too far distant future, Indiana may be able to develop a follow-up system of supervision and guidance which will adequately supplement the placement activities already in operation and which will do much to insure happy growth in service on the part of our graduates.

As part of our responsibility we advise our seniors, before their graduation, regarding the procedure in securing positions. They are urged to refuse to exercise local political influence to displace good teachers in order that they themselves may be elected to fill their places. It is suggested, however, that they canvass the situation early in the year and discover, if possible, where vacancies which they are qualified to fill are likely to occur. In this connection, Alumni can offer much appreciated service if they will let us know of probable vacancies in which Indiana graduates would be interested.

Preliminary to making personal application candidates are asked to interview, first of all, the official head of the school system—the superintendent or supervising principal; or, if there is no such official, then the leader on the board. Advice given by these local school authorities is, frequently, of greatest value.

The College gives no open general letters of recommendation into the hands of its graduates. To do so would distinctly lower our standards of professional dignity, and in the end such open letters would carry very little weight. At any time, however, we stand ready to communicate directly with school officials who seek information. This information will be given either at their request or will be forwarded at the request of the candidate. There is no limit to the number of such communications; at any time now or any time in the future we will write in the interest of our graduates, if it seems best and if we are asked to do so.

We are very anxious to keep our placement records correct to date. For this reason our graduates are urged to inform us when they earn additional credits, secure higher degrees, carry on interesting educational activities or move to another position. Our "secretarial staff" is very limited, so we cannot, as a rule, acknowledge these letters but we assure you we will add the information to your record already on file.

We also assure you of Indiana's deep and abiding interest in the professional growth and advancement of every Indiana son and daughter.

INDIANA HONORS A DISTINGUISHED ALUMNUS

Charles Margiotti was graduated from Indiana in the Class of 1912. After his graduation, he studied law at the University of Pennsylvania. Upon engaging in the practice of his chosen profession, he rapidly attained a reputation as an outstanding lawyer. At the present time he holds the position of Attorney General in the cabinet of Governor Earle of Pennsylvania.

Indiana was privileged to honor Mr. Margiotti on April 21, 1935, when he spent the entire day on the campus. While here, he was made an honorary member of Phi Alpha Zeta and Phi Sigma Pi, both national fraternities.

Outstanding among the events of the day was the general assembly, attended by the entire faculty and student body. Mr. Margiotti was introduced at this meeting by his very close friend, William ("Bill") Smith of Punxsutawney. Mr. Smith was a coach at Indiana when Mr. Margiotti was a student.

Addressing the assembly, Mr. Margiotti said in part:

"It is indeed a pleasure for me to return to Indiana. Just 23 years ago I graduated from this institution, and when I left—of course, I was younger than I am now. If I recall correctly, my hair was dark, and I was slender. But after these long years I have grown out of shape, lost my hair, and what is left of it is gray.

"When Dr. Foster asked me to address you, I told him I would gladly do so, because this institution has been an inspiration in my work throughout life. Therefore, I did not hesitate to come to Indiana to deliver just a short address.

"This morning I want to talk to you about an ideal upon which this great country of ours is founded; namely, equality of opportunity for all. That ideal will stand out forever like the Rock of Ages.

"Today, every person stands on an equal footing, and the only things that count are honesty, sincerity, and a willingness to use one's talents for the common good. No matter what our origin may be, no matter how humble it may be, no matter what our religion or creed may be, no matter what our ancestry may be, we certainly have the opportunity in this great country of ours to develop our God-given talents, if we so desire. Instead of being hampered and oppressed in our ambitions, we always find a helping hand to lift us above our environments, on to progress.

"There is today a growing tendency to feel that there is nothing left of America—that the day of opportunity has passed. This tendency prevails among thousands and thousands of college graduates, who, upon leaving college, because of the depression have found it difficult to obtain employment and to advance themselves. They have caused themselves to believe that they have reached the theater of events after the great players have departed, and they have become discouraged and embittered with life.

"I entirely disagree with that attitude. I say that the day of opportunity has not passed, but this is the day of opportunity—of greatest opportunity. There is more opportunity in this day than there has been any time since the Civil War. We are living in a transition period. The World War wrecked things. It destroyed established channels of trade. And naturally, following the War, many of our nations were in chaos. Bigotry and class hatred extended themselves, and naturally America was affected.

"But America has not and it never will permit itself to be moved from the foundation upon which it was established by those patriots who bequeathed to us the Federal Constitution.

"My friends, particularly the teachers who are to go out into the world, I am going to say to you that you should not be discouraged. No fair man, rich or poor, doubts that America does retain, with all its vigor, the people's greatest blessing of equality for all—and with that assurance, we surely need not be discouraged. This is not the day of discouragement, but it is the day of ambition, perseverance, ability, honesty, and sincerity.

"You teachers are fortunate in that you will be called upon to teach plastic minds. You can impress upon them a new idealism. I am sure that you all appreciate that in every period of this world when we have had the greatest accomplishments, those accomplishments have always followed a violent change in the channels of the ordinary course of events in which people were accustomed to living, stirring their imaginations to new idealism, and stimulating their emotions to new accomplishments that in previous generations were never even dreamed of.

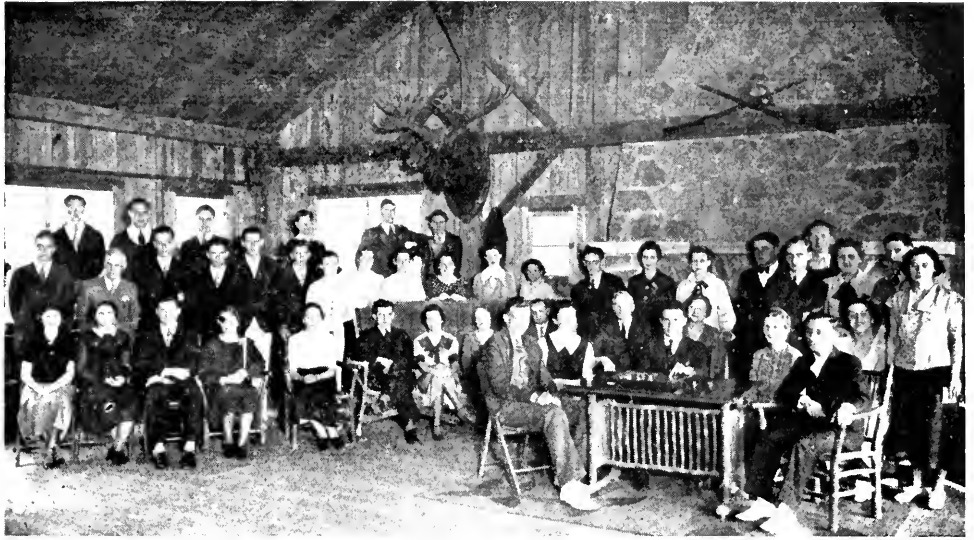

"The present depression and the present economic and social unrest in the world will do for this world what the Renaissance did for the medieval world. To be placed in a position of directing young, eager minds along proper channels in this period of unrest, this period that is bound to be a period of opportunity, is a distinction worthwhile for the person who dedicates himself to the teaching profession.

"May I say to you this morning that your administration at Harrisburg earnestly believes in securing to every child of the State of Pennsylvania, no matter where he may be located, equality of opportunity, so that he may have his future in his own hands, and he may stand on an equal footing with every other child in the State. The standards of our public school system must be maintained in Pennsylvania, and to that end, in due time, this present administration will provide the revenue for education in the State of Pennsylvania, and pay the salaries of the school teachers throughout the State of Pennsylvania up to the minimum required by law; and in that way you will have adequate funds with which to operate many impoverished school districts throughout the State of Pennsylvania, and guarantee to every child the equality of education.

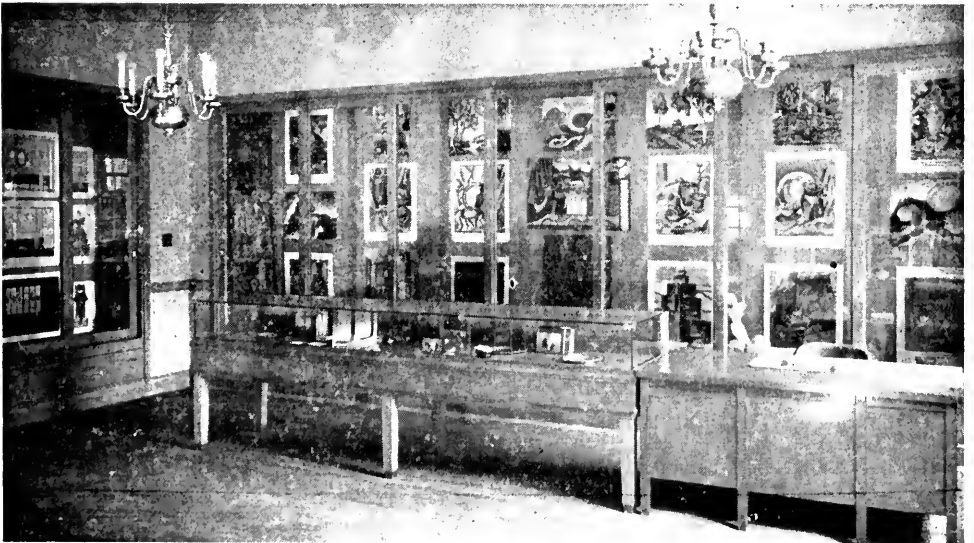

"Governor Earle, Pennsylvania's most fearless Governor, has already caused to be introduced in the halls of our legislature a graduated income tax, the revenue of which shall be used entirely for school purposes and none other.

"You young teachers who will soon leave this institution will find that as you embark on your journeys through life you will be confronted with many vital social and economic problems during this period of readjustment; and when you meet them, meet them frankly and sincerely. You are best fitted by education and by training to help solve these great problems.

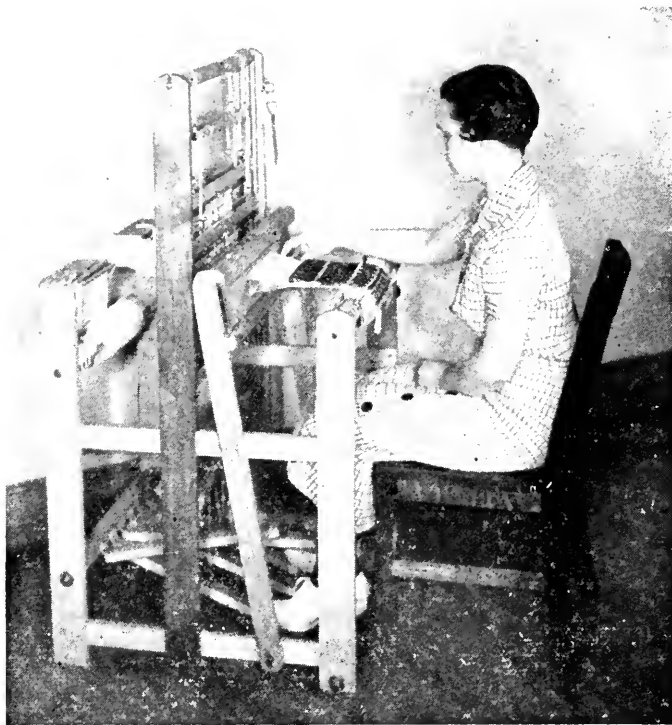

"May I advise you that when you go out into the world you do so with the thought that you will place the rights of human beings, the rights of our men, women, and children in this State above property rights. Do that, and you will never fail. Also, be independent in judgment, and always place the welfare of our State and the welfare of our nation far higher than the glory of victory for any political party, no matter what it may be.

"Now, my friends, I am proud of having graduated from Indiana. As I said to you, this institution has been a great inspiration in my life. As I leave you this morning, I do so mindful that I owe you the duty so to conduct myself as to be ever worthy of being a graduate of this fine college."

DR. LESTER ADE ASSUMES THE OFFICE OF STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

The Alumni of Indiana wish to take this opportunity of extending best wishes to Dr. Ade as he begins his work as State Superintendent of Public Instruction. The following brief sketch of Dr. Ade's activities in the educational field will serve to introduce him to the alumni group:

DR. LESTER K. ADE

Dr. Ade was born in Trout Run, near Williamsport, in 1890. He was graduated from the Muncy Normal School in 1909, from the Commercial College of Williamsport in 1910, and from Bucknell University in 1921. He taught school in Lycoming County and in the Williamsport High School. In 1922 he became superintendent of the schools in Muncy. Later he was made principal of the Muncy Normal School.

Dr. Ade's subsequent career includes the presidency of the Connecticut Teachers College at New Haven. As head of that institution he became prominent in New England educational circles.

During the World War, Dr. Ade interrupted his teaching career to enlist in the army. He served as infantry captain with the American forces in Siberia.

He holds degrees from Bucknell, Yale, and New York University. He is also secretary of the Eastern State Association of Professional Schools for Teachers.

While Dr. Ade has been serving in administrative positions, he has also concluded several educational studies on teacher preparation curricula in the United States, England, France, and Germany.

Dr. Ade is a member of Phi Delta Kappa and Kappa Delta Pi, both national honorary fraternities in education.

INDIANA'S 1934-35 ATHLETIC RECORD

Indiana continued its fine work in athletics during the past year when it captured the Teachers College Championship in football in the fall of '34. In so doing the Indians won all six games on their schedule, being the only college eleven in the state to finish undefeated or untied.

The Red and Slaters opened the grid season by defeating the veteran Lock Haven team at home 13-6. This game was featured by an aerial exhibition by Woodring and Gendich. Two weeks later Edinboro invaded Indiana and sustained a 33-0 defeat. Following Edinboro came Bloomsburg with a record of four wins and with their goal line uncrossed. Bloomsburg scored first when Woodring's punt was blocked. Woodring recovered behind the goal line giving Bloomsburg a safety and two points. Woodring and Fulton scored touchdowns. Finder fumbled one of Woodring's punts and was tackled behind the goal line by McDowell and Miller, giving the Indians another 2 points for a score of 14-2. In its first foreign invasion, the Indiana team repeated its feat of the previous week and handed the Clarion Teachers a 14-2 defeat. The Millermen finished their home season in great style when they swamped California's invading Vulcans 41-7. This marked the worst defeat administered by an Indiana eleven since 1925 when the local collegians vanquished Lock Haven 60-0. In the last game of the season, the Indiana team found itself battling at Shippensburg for its first Pennsylvania State Teachers College Championship. After three scoreless periods, Indiana emerged victorious 13-0—State Teachers College Champions of Pennsylvania.

The varsity basketball team, severely handicapped at times with injuries, had a most successful season. The records show twelve wins and four losses, no team scoring more than a single win over the Red and Slate. Double wins were scored over Clarion, Lock Haven and Pitt-Xenia; single wins over California, St. Vincent, Slippery Rock, Edinboro, Shippensburg, and Bloomsburg. California, St. Vincent, Slippery Rock, and Edinboro administered the four defeats.

During the spring season, baseball and tennis teams provided the varsity competition. The baseball squad, coached by Paul H. Boyts of the geography department, finished the season with 7 wins and 5 losses. Considering the caliber of the opposition, a most successful season was enjoyed. The most notable victory was the 14-inning defeat of St. Vincent, 3-2. K. Davis pitched the game allowing 6 hits and striking out 16 opposing batters. During the past four years the Indians have won 25 and lost 9 games.

The varsity tennis team, coached by Earl E. Prugh of the mathematics department, engaged in 6 matches and came through with one of the most successful seasons in recent years. The local racket wielders held the strong Mansfield team to a 4-2 score. Mansfield has lost just one match during the past 4 years.

Besides ranking as one of the outstanding colleges in varsity competition, Indiana has one of the finest intramural programs in the country. The whole athletic program is one of balance. Opportunity is provided for all to participate in good, clean, well-supervised physical activity. The average or below average athletes have opportunities to learn the fundamentals and finer points of the various sports by intramural competition and the more outstanding individuals by participation in varsity sports. The intramural program at Indiana, under the supervision of Mr. Boyts assisted by Mr. Emmert, Mr. Iams, Dr. Madden, Mr. Miller, Mr. Sanders, and Mr. Prugh, is attracting national interest. No other Teachers College in the State, and few in the country, provides the same opportunities for intramural sports as Indiana. Indiana being essentially a teacher training institution, the Physical Education Department feels the necessity for training its young men and women so that they may be able to assist in the activity phases of the school program. It is also the purpose of this program to teach and encourage the participation in physical activities that will have a carry-over into after school life as well as for present enjoyment.

KAPPA DELTA PI

Kappa Delta Pi is a national honorary fraternity open to both men and women. Beta Gamma Chapter was inaugurated on our campus in 1928. Membership in this fraternity represents the highest honor that a student can attain at Indiana.

The purpose of the fraternity is to foster fellowship, scholarship, and worthwhile achievements in the educational world. Only juniors and seniors with an average grade of "B" or better are eligible to membership.

Among the Alumni of Kappa Delta Pi:

James Stoner has received his master's degree. He is teaching in New Kensington, Pa.

Grace Sheep, Altoona, 1930, has finished her degree work at State College. Last summer she taught at Girard College, Philadelphia.

Evanna Barr, a graduate of the Commercial Department in 1930, is now head of commercial work in the Elizabethtown High School. She has under her supervision five practice teachers from Elizabethtown College.

Paul Smay, Altoona, has done some unusual stage sets for school plays in Altoona. He also participated in a panel discussion at a meeting of the Mountain Arts Association at Lock Haven last fall.

Ray Simpson holds a Lectureship at Barnard College, Columbia University. He has matriculated for his doctor's degree at Teachers College, Columbia.

Paul Salsgiver is giving a course at Boston University, summer session 1935, called "Principles and Practice of Commercial Education." In the meantime he is going to continue his study at the University.

John Batiste is teaching at Mt. Pleasant Township High School.

Gladys Overholt is teaching at Coplay, Pa.

Joan O'Donnell is teaching at Clearfield, Pa.

Ruth Wagner is teaching at Mechanicsburg, Pa.

Earl Strong is teaching at Manasquan, N. J.

Kenneth Haines is teaching at Worthington, Pa.

Elizabeth Swanseen is teaching at Kane High School, Kane, Pa.

Grace Gonlock is teaching at Arnold, Pa.

Hazel Brewer is teaching at Rochester, Pa.

Flossie Wagner, an alumnus of Indiana and a member of Kappa Delta Pi at Columbia University, received her master's degree at Columbia last summer. Mrs. Cleaves Reece is also studying at Columbia.

Vera Simpson, a member of Kappa Delta Pi at the University of Colorado, will receive her master's degree at New York University this summer.

Miss Wagner, Mrs. Reece, and Miss Simpson are all members of the faculty as well as graduates of Indiana.

THE 1934-35 CALENDAR OF ALL-CAMPUS LECTURES AND ENTERTAINMENTS

September 26

The Reverend Arthur Pfohl of the Lutheran Church of Indiana, ably discussed the German situation at General Assembly. His discussion centered about two questions, "How long can Hitler continue in power?" and "Does Hitler mean peace or war?". Mr. Pfohl spent some weeks during the summer with a group studying in Russia and Germany.

October 15

Norman Allan Imrie addressed the General Assembly with a discussion on the returns on money and time invested in education as contrasted with the doubtful returns on other investments. Quoting Solomon his parting advice was, "With all thy getting, get understanding."

October 24

Dr. Will Durant, author and philosopher, addressed the General Assembly on the subject "Is Progress Real?" He built upon the idea that all civilization depends upon education and closed his address with ten steps in the advancement of civilization. They were: speech, conquest of animals, coming of fire and light, passage of man from hunting to agriculture, morality, aesthetic sense, writing, science, and education.

November 5

Ted Shawn and his ensemble of men dancers opened the Leonard Literary Society presentations with an unusual program including a dramatic representation of John Brown Sees the Glory, Invitation to the Thunderbird, a group of lighter dances, and a group of religious dances. Beauty of movement was brilliantly portrayed.

November 7

Dr. J. Russell Smith, American economic geographer, professor at Columbia University, spoke to the members of Travelers Club. He compared Persia and Switzerland, showing how the population in each country is adjusting itself to the natural environment.

November 14

Dr. C. R. Foster spoke at General Assembly on the Three R's of Recovery which include Restoration of efficient teachers, Reorganization of units of administration, and Revision of our present tax system.

December 3

Miss Viola Mitchell's program of music for the violin was the second entertainment offered by the Leonard Literary Society. Miss Mitchell paid her audience the compliment of a well-balanced program including numbers from 18th century composers as well as those of the present day. Earl Mitchell accompanied at the piano.

December 7

Dr. Emil Lengyel gave a stirring interpretation of "Austria's Tragedy" at the General Assembly. He showed how Austria is bound to Germany through language, customs, and traditions yet how she must resist Germany's attempt to subjugate and dominate her.

January 9

Miss Thyrsa Amos, Dean of Women at the University of Pittsburgh, was a guest of the Panhellenic Association and the Y. W. C. A. She addressed the women students on "Being a Somebody."

February 4

Winston O'Keefe gave an interesting and colorful address at the General Assembly. He described the passing of the old Southwest and the cowboy. He showed how some authors have tried to interpret the life of the cowboy and his growth. He sang several of the well-known cowboy ballads in the true cowpuncher manner.

February 14

Dr. Lothrop Stoddard advanced the thesis that the United States can and should keep out of the next war which he believes will occur within the next few years. "National interests will be best served by a policy of strict armed neutrality."

February 18

Leonard Literary Society presented the poet, Carl Sandburg, who spoke briefly on the history of poetry and read some of his own poems. He offered some old songs, accompanying them with the guitar. He has truly earned the name "The Laureate of Industrial America."

February 18

Dr. George Opdyke, engineer, connoisseur, writer, and lecturer, addressed the General Assembly on the "Relation Between Art and Utility." He classified art as representative, decorative and utilitarian. In utilitarian art, use is of first importance and beauty is secondary, while decorative art must beautify.

March 18

Leonard Literary Society closed its series of programs with the presentation of "Sun Up," a dramatic play of the Carolina hills. The student cast did excellent work on par with that of "Death Takes a Holiday" and "Journey's End," the preceding annual productions of the Society.

March 22

Dr. Boyd H. Bode, Head of the Education Department of Ohio State University, delivered a stimulating address at the General Assembly. His thesis was that students need to progress from dependence on authority to reliance on personal intelligence. The well educated person is ready to accept such responsibility. Dr. Bode was the guest of the Faculty Club and addressed that organization at a dinner meeting.

April 13

Dr. Raymond Ditmars, curator of the New York Zoological Gardens and an authority on animal life, presented "Our Animal Friends and Foes." His vivid descriptions and almost unbelievable pictures aroused much interest in deer, snakes and vampire bats.

April 29

Attorney General Margiotti addressed the General Assembly on "The Equality of Opportunity." His address is printed elsewhere in the bulletin.

April 30

Stuart Chase presented his lecture on "The Economy of Abundance." The problem was that of our relief program. His conclusion was that we live in a changing social order. Energy and invention have produced abundance, and we must use them to build a new framework suited to our times.

May 23-25

The annual commencement play, "Mrs. Moonlight," was presented on each of these dates.

WITH THE CLASSES

1878

To Mr. J. M. Berkey we are extremely grateful for the news of the Class of 1878. Mr. Berkey returned to the campus for Home-coming last October. His presence was a delight to faculty and students.

Of this class only three are now living. They are:

James E. Andrews, La Crosse, Kansas

Robert J. St. Clair, Finlayson, Minnesota

Jacob M. Berkey, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

Mr. Andrews was a lawyer and served one or more terms as judge in the courts of Kansas. He is in his eighty-third year and living in retirement at La Crosse. In April of this year he wrote, "My health is pretty good, but I am not able to write now and have asked my wife to write this for me."

Mr. St. Clair was a business man for many years but is now living with one of his children on a farm near Finlayson. He is in his eighty-first year and evidently in fair health and enjoying the association of his large family of children and grandchildren. He has lived practically all of his life since graduation in Missouri, Kansas, and Minnesota.

Mr. Berkey retired from the teaching profession in 1926, after serving in the public school system of Pennsylvania for 51 years. His earlier teaching experience was in Somerset and Westmoreland Counties, and his subsequent school relations included nine years as superintendent of his native county of Somerset, nine years city superintendent of Johnstown, and twenty-one years in the School Administration of Pittsburgh, the last fourteen years as Director of Extension Education. He is seventy-eight years old, in good health, and still interested in the educational work and progress of his earlier associates.

1879

Indiana was honored during the year by the visit of Mrs. M. D. Heath (Margaret Woods) of Baldwin Park, California. Mrs. Heath had not been in Indiana for many years and she expressed unbounded pleasure in the improvements that have taken place. After visiting friends in Indiana and vicinity, Mrs. Heath went on to Philadelphia and thence to Florida. She is now retired from the teaching profession and will welcome her Indiana friends at her home in Baldwin Park if they should chance that way. A school in Baldwin Park has been named the Mary Heath School in her honor.

1882

William P. Reese, who was a lawyer, has retired.

1883

W. W. Barbour is one of the members of the Elk and McKean County Alumni Unit. He is one of the leading lawyers of Ridgway.

1884

A note of appreciation of the Alumni News came from Mrs. Elizabeth Ritchie of 313 Kelly Avenue, Wilksburg, Pennsylvania. She regretted exceedingly that she was unable to attend the fiftieth reunion of her class.

Fifty Year Class Reunion

1885

The class of 1885 held its Fiftieth Reunion at Indiana, May 25. The day was perfect, as such days can be only at Indiana. To our longing eyes.

Indiana was lovely as never before. Many of us had not seen our Alma Mater in fifty years, and the improvements and new buildings were a great surprise.

The day was packed full to overflowing, beginning at eight o'clock the night before and lasting well into the night on Saturday. The president of the class, Reverend Frank Muse of Spokane, Washington, was here to greet his classmates as they arrived. Laura Cochrane of Frederick, Maryland; Margaret McCain, of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; Allan B. Angney and the Marshall "girls," Mrs. Anna McCracken and Adah, were the Friday night arrivals. Of course Angney and Margaret were easily recognized, but Laura had us guessing. Early morning brought J. I. Robb from Philadelphia and Thomas J. Itell from Somerset, Pennsylvania, with two fine daughters, both graduates of Indiana.

Our three resident members, Annie Given, Jean McElhaney, and M. C. Gordon, were then greeted; Carrie Richards Shouse and Nan Cawley Walker, accompanied by Nan's son, drove from Pittsburgh; and last to arrive was O. H. Warnock from Larimer, making fourteen of the thirty-eight surviving members present.

Ten o'clock soon came and we all gathered for the Alumni Meeting in the "Chapel," where we received an ovation and sat in the seats of the honored. Early rising and a strenuous morning had given us all good appetites, and we were glad to be summoned to the dining hall for luncheon.

Mr. Thomas Sutton acted as toastmaster and in his happy way conducted this part of the program. Our Annie Given, in a few well-chosen words, brought greetings from the class of 1885. As one means of greeting the absent members and prolonging their happy hours, a photographer appeared and a picture was taken as part of the alumni activities. After the reception by Dr. Foster, the class in a body called upon Miss Given in her home by the campus, where an informal meeting and roll call occupied the afternoon.

Two attorneys, Allan B. Angney of Allegheny County, and Thomas J. Itell of Somerset County, and one minister, Reverend Frank Muse, gave a history of work in their chosen professions. Two school men, M. C. Gordon and J. I. Robb, told of their work; and O. H. Warnock gave a very interesting account of his work at the Westinghouse factory during war days.

Laura Cochrane reported a long useful life in the school room, the last half of her service having been in the state of Maryland. Anna Marshall McCracken gave an account of her work in the Kindergarten Association and the Fine Arts Department of Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Miss Annie Given told of six years as a missionary in India and some events in her later life. Mrs. Margaret McCain Peterson, Mrs. Nan Cawley Walker, Mrs. Carrie Richards Shouse each taught a few years, married, and reared families.

Miss Adah Marshall, who has retired after forty-two years teaching in various departments, appeared in her graduation gown.

Letters and greetings were read from Eva Vanard Woodburn and Lottie Moon of Pasadena; Reverend James Wilson, for twenty-nine years pastor of St. James Presbyterian Church of South Bellingham, Washington; Reverend W. F. Shields, former missionary to Egypt, now minister in Medford, Oregon; Jennie Adair Belsey of Glendale, California; Caroline Hays Salisbury of Los Angeles, California; Agnes McCall Taylor of New Hope, Pennsylvania; Jean Marshall McConaughy, Holdredge, Nebraska; Minnie Muse Jones, McKeesport, Pennsylvania; Minnie Smith, New Wilmington, Delaware; Jane McFadden Zweizig of Reading, Pennsylvania; J. B. Woodruff, M.D., of Johnstown, Pennsylvania; and Annie Graham, Principal of McKelvey School, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Tributes were paid to the members who have passed to their reward: Mary Angus Walker, missionary to Africa; Alice Carney Wilson; Adaline M. Elliott, former Dean of Women at Slippery Rock State Teachers College; Mary C. Fair; Fanny Hays; Emma R. Lemmon; Annette Needy; Martha A. Oliver; Robert S. Simpson; W. H. Sproull; Jennie Warren Copeland; Frank R. Hutton.

One of the many enjoyable features of the reunion was a reception given by M. C. Gordon and Mrs. Gordon to the class Saturday evening.

Early Sunday morning Miss Angie Marshall kindly drove the ladies remaining at the college to "The Lodge," a pleasure spot recently purchased by the college for the enjoyment of the students.

By Sabbath evening most of the class had departed declaring the reunion had more than reached their expectations and loud in praise of the hospitality of their beloved Indiana State Teachers College.

Professor James Irvin Robb has been most successful in his chosen profession since his graduation from Normal School. His first position was in the Soldiers' Orphanage Institute in Philadelphia, the following year in Bryn Mawr Public Schools.

In 1891 he became Superintendent of the Public Schools of Lower Merion Township, near Philadelphia, and assumed the task of organizing the schools of that township. He was elected to teach in the Northeast High School in Philadelphia in 1903, during the regime of Dr. Andrew J. Morrison. After a few years, Professor Robb was made head of the Department of History and Commerce.

In 1909 he succeeded Professor John W. Moyer as Principal of the Northeast Evening High School, a position which he has carried along with his day school work until his retirement in June, 1935. During his thirty-two years of service as a member of the faculty of Northeast High School, he has served the school and the city educational work in general in every way at his command.

Since his marriage in 1927 to Miss Sarah Pleis Miller, he has lived in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

J. B. Woodruff is a physician and is living at 530 Luzerne Street, Westmont, Johnstown, Pennsylvania.

1887

John W. Cramer is now living at 320 Haynes Street, Johnstown.

The following account appeared in the Johnstown Tribune April 16, 1935, concerning Mary J. Williams (Mrs. J. D. Simons):

"Mrs. Mary W. Simons of the Fockler Apartments, 419 Franklin Street, yesterday marked the 70th anniversary of her birth, a birthday dinner in the evening at the Colonial Inn, near Ligonier, being followed by an informal reception at the Simons home. A number of friends attended as well as Mrs. Simons' two daughters, Emily, with whom she resides, and Mrs. E. Preston Sharp, of Philadelphia.

"Mrs. Simons is a pensioned teacher. During her work as an instructor she taught in local schools, at the Spellman's Seminary in Atlanta, Georgia, for a number of years, and in the East Taylor Township schools. She has been active in missionary work and is the present president of the Women's Missionary Society of the Memorial Baptist Church. She has been teacher of the Women's Bible Class of the congregation for the past decade.

"A native of Pine Flats, Indiana County, Mrs. Simons has resided here for the past 14 years. Following her marriage to the late J. D. Simons, of Pittsburgh, in this city about 30 years ago, she made her home in Pittsburgh and Columbus, Ohio, before returning to Johnstown. Mr. Simons died five years ago."

1888

Joshua T. Stewart was elected to the State Legislature at the last election. He was for many years Superintendent of Schools in Indiana County. He is again in a fine position to promote the interests of education.

Mary J. Cooper, former primary supervisor in the schools of Johnstown, Pennsylvania, is slowly recovering from illness at her home, 134 Montour Avenue, Westmont, Johnstown.

1890

Ella King Vogel, of Somerset, Pennsylvania, is teaching in one of the Pittsburgh High Schools. In 1932 she was appointed and sent as a delegate to Honolulu to the Regional Conference of the World Federation of Education Association and was on the program. In 1933 she was again a W. F. E. A. delegate, being sent to the Fifth Biennial Meeting in Dublin, Ireland. In 1933-34 Miss Vogel was appointed by Miss Jessie Gray, N. E. A. President, as a member of the International Relations Committee.

Mary L. Barry, now Mrs. P. F. McAneny, resides at 121 Walnut Street, Johnstown.

1891

Jane F. Goodell is teaching third grade at the Union Street School. She resides at 918 Second Avenue, Westmont, Johnstown.

1892

Ellen Cooper is teaching at the Tioga Street School, Westmont, Johnstown.

Cornelia E. Hile is now Mrs. H. S. Bender and is living at 425 Russell Avenue, Johnstown.

Matilda Krebs, former supervising principal of Southmont Borough Schools, Johnstown, has returned to her home following a visit of several months in Mexico and Arizona.

1893

Anna C. Sloan (Mrs. Albert Sleight) is the Legislative Representative of the Johnstown Unit of the Indiana Alumni.

Forty Year Class Reunion*1895

The call of their Alma Mater brought back to Indiana twenty-six members of the class of '95. With them came eleven wives, husbands, and children. The presence of Dr. D. J. Waller, the principal of Indiana during the school years of the class of '95, and of their former teachers, Mrs. Anna Kendig Morgan and Mr. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Wright, Miss Sarah M. Gallaher, Dr. Will Grant Chambers, and Mr. M. C. Gordon, made the reunion an unusually pleasant one. The class recalled pleasant memories of their friend and teacher, Miss Jane E. Leonard.

The welcome extended the class by Dr. Foster and the members of the faculty of Indiana was deeply appreciated by the class. The hours spent renewing acquaintances and friendships and reviewing the forty years since the July Fourth commencement, when seventy-two members of the class of '95 were sent out to fire the world, made the reunion happy and altogether delightful. The class left the halls of Indiana full of plans for the next reunion.

Ruth Adair is teaching first grade at the Bheam School and resides at 231 Walnut Street, Johnstown.

Frank P. Barnhart is a lawyer and has his office at 402 Swank Building, Johnstown. His residence is at 1522 Franklin Street.

1896

Sarah M. Jones, of Johnstown, Pennsylvania, is the Assistant Superintendent of Cambria County Schools.

Clara S. Menges is the Principal of the Somerset Street School and resides at 637 Somerset Street, Johnstown.

1899

This letter was received from Miss Cora B. Withington of Los Angeles, California:

Dear Classmates of '99:

No mere words of mine can possibly convey in adequate measure my sincere appreciation of your kind thoughtfulness in sending me the "Talking Book." I want each and every one of you to know and feel my gratitude for your truly marvelous gift.

Having books, plays, poetry and the Scriptures actually read aloud by this wonderful invention to one such as I gives not only real joy but a sense of independence, which I had thought was lost. Combined as it is with a splendid radio, it opens avenues of pleasurable experiences such as I wish every sightless person might have.

Your sympathy and friendship as evidenced by this gift makes a warm glow in my heart, which brightens and lightens my path.

Your classmate,

Cora B. Withington, '99.

At 12:30 on Saturday, May 18, 1935, the Class of '99 had their semi-annual luncheon at the "Congress of Clubs" on Penn Avenue, Pittsburgh. There were fifteen present, which number was much smaller than the usual turn-out. Carolyn Lauman was proxy for her sister Christine and made the number sixteen. Dan Miller was the only man of the class present, and he enjoyed this distinction. After the luncheon, Mrs. Taylor of Dormont, demonstrated the "Talking Book," the same kind that had been given to Cora Withington. Mrs. Taylor is also blind. Mabel Dickie Smith presided at the meeting. The day was a beautiful one, and after a round or two of class, school, and high-class family gossip, the group broke up to go shopping.

David Ira Johnston is carrying on most successfully the Oklahoma Unit. He holds all the offices and makes all the contributions. Both the Student Loan Fund and the Alumni News have benefited this year from his generosity.

Emma L. Baumer, of Johnstown, underwent an operation in the Memorial Hospital.

Sara C. Gallagher, of 236 Conemaugh Street, Johnstown, is teaching English at Joseph Johns Junior High School.

Margaret D. Goggin, of 37 Clarion Street, Westmont, Johnstown, is teaching geography and guidance at the Joseph Jones Junior High School.

L. G. Shaffer, 804 Summit Avenue, Ferndale, is the principal of the Cochran Junior High School, Johnstown, Pennsylvania.

1900

Edith Rees Furman is now living in Kirby, Montana, about 46 miles from the Custer Battlefield Highway and close to the Dude Ranch Region. She is teaching in a rural school near her home.

Laura Walker writes a most interesting letter from Luxor, Egypt, where she is engaged in missionary work under the Presbyterian Board. She tells of traveling by train or sailboat to the small towns around Luxor, where she visits missionaries engaged in evangelistic work. Her work all sounds very fascinating. She has spent thirty years in Luxor and expresses no intention of returning to the States.

Mrs. Julia Stephenson Stephenson, of 1115 East Jefferson Street, Bloomington, Illinois, who was secretary of the class of 1900, is desirous of having more news of her class in the Alumni Bulletin. Members of her class should send news items to her prior to the next issue of the bulletin. We are indebted to her for the following items:

Oscar St. Clair engaged in the practice of engineering after leaving Indiana. He is now associated with the Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Texas, where he is head of the Department of Industrial Engineering. He is at present busily engaged in planning two new courses—one in Industrial Engineering and the other in Industrial Education. His wife was also a member of the class of 1900. Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair have two sons.

Leon Hoffman is associated with his brother in the Hoffman Brothers Drilling Company of Punxsutawney, Pennsylvania. He is also connected with the Penn Wayne Gas Company; the Kurtz Coal, Lumber and Supply Company; and is a director in the Farmers and Miners Trust Company of Punxsutawney.

1901

Amy Davis, 337 Lincoln Street, is teaching American history at Cochran Junior High School, Johnstown.

Carolyn Kugel, 317 Messenger Street, is teaching second and third grades at the Roxbury School, Johnstown.

1902

Elsie D. Canan teaches at the Westmont Upper Yoder High School, Johnstown.

1904

Maude Robertson Jacobs resides in South Carrollton, Kentucky.

Lillie Harris teaches music, penmanship, and drawing in grades 4, 5, and 6, at the Union Street School. Miss Harris trained a chorus of about thirty-five children who recently appeared in the opera, "The Pied Piper," given by the Senior Class of the Johnstown High.

Mrs. John Kenny, formerly Margaret Hughes, is employed at the local S. E. R. B. Office. She is living at 234 Vine Street, Johnstown.

Thirty Year Class Reunion 1905

Seventeen members of the class of 1905 accepted Dr. Foster's invitation to celebrate their thirtieth anniversary.

Part of the crowd arrived Friday evening and in the wee small hours enjoyed an old-time feast in Celia Rayburn Jamison's room—with not a tap on the door nor a voice to say, "Lights out." After the Alumni Luncheon. Jennie Craig Rial's son, Robert, photographed the group in a number of poses. Saturday evening the group was entertained at the home of Margaret Lowman.

Those attending the festivities were Sara Gibson Terry, Martha Williams Bennett, Julia Robeson, Jennie Craig Rial, Anna Wigton Wilson, Sue Smith Humphreys, Fannie Travis Wilson, Isabel Allison Neel, Janet Sligh, Marian Gray Wilson, Vida Van Horn Hyle, Celia Rayburn Jamison, Anna Clarke Mellot, Mary Urey, Rebecca Fowler, Margaret Lowman.

Miss Margaret Lowman, of the class of 1905, was recently elected Principal of Thaddeus Stevens School, Indiana, Pennsylvania, to succeed Miss Crissie Cameron, who will retire this spring.

W. O. Forman became Principal of a Junior High School in Morgantown, West Virginia, in January, 1935. Mr. Forman is a graduate and former instructor at Indiana and was the first President of the Uniontown Alumni Unit.

Hazel Kearney Marshall resides in Thomas, West Virginia. The Marshalls are the parents of four children: John, a junior in West Virginia University at Morgantown, where he is secretary to the head of the English department; Mary Jane, a senior in Thomas High School; Chester Armstrong, Jr., and Barbara Ann, still in the grades. Both girls say they are coming to Indiana.

1906

Emma Davis Wilson now resides in Reynoldsville, Pennsylvania. An only child, Betty, was graduated from Highland Hall in 1933. She is now a student at Grove City College.

1908

Mary Gertrude Whiteman, of Latrobe, was married to William J. Hyett, of Wildwood, well known Pittsburgh art dealer and president of the Gillespie Galleries, of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Hyett, after her graduation, was a member of the faculty of National Park Seminary in Washington, D.C., later teaching in the Clarion State Teachers College, leaving the teaching profession to enter business. Until recently she was engaged in business in Washington, D.C. Mr. and Mrs. Hyett reside in Cotswold Villa, Oak Hill Farms, Wildwood, Pennsylvania.

Twenty-Five Year Class Reunion 1910

Twenty-four members of the class returned for the reunion. Neither of the preceding occasions, 1920 or 1930, showed the enthusiasm of this one. A telegram of greeting was received from George Bock, of Pittsburgh. Plans were made for the 1940 reunion, which will have the careful attention of Bess Keller Smith. We urge the class members to plan to come in 1940.

Harry Clawson, Roxie Widdowson Neal, Sadie Carnahan Buckley, Mildred Kimmel Warner, May Boggs Smith, J. Paul Warner, Stella Barr Miller, Edna Beilstein Means, Lettie McCreary Miller, Bess Keller Smith, Harry Kimmel, Viola Kalp Howarth, and Frances Breitemstein McKee reported families with ambitions which we hope will be realized. Roxie Widdowson Neal's son is in Princeton, and Stella Barr Miller's two oldest daughters are in Allegheny College.

Olive King and Katharine Hahn are at home.

Anna Doherty, Della Hiteshew, Mary Faloon, Mary Fornwalt, Walter Stiver, Ella McKnight, Blanche Seanor, and Eliza Crea are teaching.

Irene C. Niebaum has her M. A. from Columbia.

An error was made in our last issue in reporting the death of Elizabeth J. Robertson. Miss Robertson died when a sophomore in the Medical Department of the University of Illinois. A sister, Eva Mae Robertson, who is a member of the class of 1910, teaches in Johnstown.

Mary Martha Dwyer, 14 year old daughter of Dr. Frank P. and Mary Howell Dwyer, died on January 27, 1935, at the Renovo Hospital of a blood stream infection. She was president of the sophomore class of the Renovo High School, leader of the Girl Scouts, editor of the school year book, a talented saxophonist, and leader of the school orchestra. She is survived by her parents and two brothers, James R., 19 years old, a junior in the University of Pennsylvania, and Frank, nine years old, at home.

Ralph W. Hastings is Zone Office Manager of the General Motors Truck Agency in San Diego, California. Ralph married a California girl, Lillian McKenney, who is a poet and composer.

1911

Erasmus Castaneda is engaged in the sugar exporting business in Cuba. He was a student at Cornell after leaving Indiana. His wife was educated in Baltimore. He proudly displayed a photograph of his five children. "Mike's" return for Commencement was a real event. He reported that he flew part way, traveled part way by train, and eventually arrived by bus. The return to Indiana of former graduates from great distances is distinct evidence of their kindly feeling and loyalty to the Indiana of earlier days. We are cordially invited to call on the Castanedas when we take "that Havana cruise."

1913

Alfred H. Quinette is now teaching in the South Senior High School, Youngstown, Ohio. He has received his B. S. Degree from the University of Pittsburgh and his M. A. Degree from the same university. In 1916 he married Jennie Florence Skiles of Wilmerding, Pennsylvania. Their address is 3420 Glenwood Avenue, Youngstown, Ohio.

Harvey McCormick Trimble is a Professor of Physical Chemistry in Oklahoma A. and M. College, Stillwater, Oklahoma. Formerly he was an instructor in chemistry at the Universities of Arkansas and Michigan. Dr. Trimble received his Bachelor of Science degree in Chemistry in 1918, his Master of Science in Chemistry in 1924, and his Doctor of Philosophy in 1926. In 1920, he was married to Ada Elizabeth Hickey. They have two daughters, Mary Elizabeth and Margaret Ann.

The following article is copied from the Akron Times-Press. Mrs. Little is known to us as Augusta Giammartini:

MRS. GEORGE B. LITTLE TO LEAVE
MIDDLE OF JUNE FOR NEW HOME

Club and society circles will be bidding farewell to Mrs. George B. Little, Edgerton Road, the middle of June. News of her departure to make her home in Atlanta, Ga., is just being made. Mr. Little, who is being sent in the interests of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., left Sunday.

Mrs. Little is leaving Tuesday, June 18, with her sons, George Jr., and James, to visit in Boston, Mass., before going to New York. There they will see George Jr., off on the S. S. Berengaria for a summer in Europe before going to Atlanta.

Before they leave Mrs. Little is giving a cruise party for George. It will be held at their home Friday, June 14. Decorations are to be in ship fashion and dancing will afford diversion. That same day James will graduate from King School.

Mrs. Little has been prominently identified with club work during her four years' residence in Akron. She just recently has been re-elected treasurer of the Akron and Summit County Federation of Women's Clubs. She organized the Midget Federation and was a member of the committee which organized the Junior Federation. She has been chairman of the fine arts and international relations committees of the federation and was a member of Mrs. Harry Long's committee which organized the Community Study Group. In home and school league work she is a member of the advisory boards of King and West High Schools and is a member of the advisory council of high school home and school leagues. She has been a member of the International Institute board of management and the Y. M. C. A. Mothers' Club board.

Alice St. Clair will complete her work for the Bachelor of Science degree at Indiana this summer. Alice is a member of the College faculty.

Vera Amy Simpson will receive the Master of Arts degree from New York University this summer.

Twenty-Year Class Reunion 1915

William D. Markel, president of the class, presided at a class meeting held in Erodolphian Hall, May 25, 1935. There was little business to discuss, but money was collected to pay for repairing the flag pole which was erected by our class several years ago.

After reminiscing we found that many of our class members were living out of the state. Roberta Lockard Wanner came from New Port Richey, Florida, and Mercedes Christie Hamilton from Newport News, Virginia, to attend our reunion.

Alma Hileman Post had the largest family—five children. After the meeting we went to the gymnasium and had our class picture taken.

At six-thirty we had dinner at the Rustic Lodge. The chairman of the nominating committee, Adele Giammartini Bauer, presented the same slate for consideration for new officers, that was presented twenty years ago, and the same officers were unanimously re-elected:

President .....	William D. Markel
Vice-President .....	Frank Terpe
Secretary .....	Mary Alice Watson Ferguson
Treasurer .....	Louise Grant St. Clair

The class members from Indiana were hostesses at the dinner. Zureta France Timberlake was toast mistress and called the roll. The good news reported by the members was saddened when we heard of the deaths of several of our classmates.

Alice West Ling entertained us with her clever remarks.

We all appreciated the work done by Louise Grant St. Clair and her committee, and a rising vote of thanks was given to them, before we adjourned.

Before leaving we all planned to meet again for our next reunion in 1940.

Those who attended the reunion were:

William D. Markel and wife, from Butler, Pa. He is practicing law, and is the father of one daughter.

Frank Terpe is married and lives in Barberton, Ohio. He is office manager of the chemical division for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. He has two sons aged 16 and 6.

Louise Grant St. Clair is living in Indiana with her four children. Louise's oldest daughter, Margaret, is attending Highland Hall, Hollidaysburg, Pa.

Lida Stage married Robert Earl Sunderland. They have three children and are living in Aldan, Pa. Earl received his B. S. and M. S. from Temple University, and has been a teacher at Northeast High School, Philadelphia, Pa., for the past fourteen years.

Zureta France Timberlake is living in Indiana, but expects to move to San Antonio, Pa. She is the mother of three children and is very active in church and civic work. She is most anxious to have us all visit her in her new home.

Margaret Hogan was graduated from the University of Pittsburgh, and is teaching in Midland, Pa.

Alice West Ling, Johnstown, Pa., is working hard for her bachelor's degree at Pitt. She has three children.

Betty A. Paterick, now Mrs. John J. Brazill, the mother of one daughter, is living in Hastings, Pa.

Audrie Clark Gillette, besides being an enthusiastic golfer, is interested in dogs. At present they have five "Scotties." She lives in Dormont, Pa.

Helen Lapsley Glasser is living in Indiana again. Her new address is 1061 Church Street. Her oldest son finished his first year at Pitt, and is on his way to South America now.

Vera Gillin Murphy's address is 231 Tremont Ave., Greensburg, Pa.

Margery Robinson Henderson is living at 446 S. Main Street, Zelenople, Pa. If you are ever driving through Zelenople, don't forget to sample "Margery's" Black Walnut Fudge.

Mildred Gamble is a training teacher at Clarion State Teachers College. Her address is Bentleyville, Pa.

Helen Moore (Mrs. Ralph B. Salt), Mountainview Terrace, Westfield, N. J., has two boys, age six and four and a half. Her husband is on the stage. His stage name is "Ralph Theodore," and he made his first appearance when he was eighteen months old.

Mercedes Christie Hamilton lives in Hilton Village, near Newport News, Virginia. Mercedes had her husband with her, and regretted that her two sons were unable to be with her, as the schools in Virginia are not closed.

Cecelia B. Walsh is now Mrs. A. C. Clouse, 406 Third St., Butler, Pa. She has a daughter four years old.

Alma Hileman Post, Carrick, Pa., has five children. The oldest was graduated from high school, and the youngest is ready for kindergarten.

Ralph Weaver who listed himself as "Old Bachelor," is cashier of the Citizens National Bank of Windber, Pa.

Zella Mottorn (Mrs. W. C. Fitzgerald), R. D. No. 1, Avonmore, Pa., is living on a farm and has four children.

Sara Bryson Yealy (Mrs. S. Holmes Yealy), Derry, Pa., has two children, Holmes, Jr., and Sara Jane.

Zella Logan Wilson, R. D. No. 4, Butler, Pa., has specialized in growing choice dahlias and gladioli. Her son is seven years old.

Mary Emily Miller (Mrs. W. B. Hartley), 113 W. 8th Ave., Homestead, Pa., has one daughter, Lydia Jeanne.

Kathryn Regina Wright Bailey, 224 4th St., McDonald, Pa., is interested in club work. Her daughter, Suzanne was with her and Billie stayed at home.

Grace Young is teaching in Derry, Pa.

Zeta Hemple, 1015 Chislett St., Pittsburgh, Pa., is teaching English at Latimer Junior High School, Pittsburgh, Pa. She received her B. A. from University of Pittsburgh, and M. A. from Duquesne University.

F. Elizabeth Piper's home address is 504 4th Ave., Derry, Pa., but she is teaching English in Latimer Junior High School, Pittsburgh, Pa., and her address is 600 Rebecca Street, Wilkinsburg, Pa. She received her B. A. from University of Pittsburgh, and her M. A. from Duquesne University.

Gladys Ferguson (Mrs. Wm. Wigsten), Horseheads, N. Y., has two charming daughters.

Anna Rogers (Mrs. Orla A. Imlay), 3000 Alberta Street, Homestead Park, Munhall, Pa., has a son just ready for kindergarten.

Helen Repine is teaching English in Blairsville, Pa.

Zelah Burtsfield Lindberg, 159 F. St., Johnstown, Pa., has a daughter in high school.

Frieda Fleck, 146 Hershberger Street, Johnstown, Pa., received her M. A. degree from University of Pittsburgh, and is Physical Education Instructor in the Johnstown High School.

Fanny Evans Baird, 3445 Fleming Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa., is teaching in Pittsburgh. She enjoys playing bridge and swimming.

Roberta Lockard Wanner, after living sixteen years in the South, expects to locate at 1000 Jackman Ave., Avalon, Pa. She received her B. A. degree from the University of Florida, at Gainesville, Florida.

Therese Brombach Lloyd, R. D., Verona, Pa., has three children.

Mae Nevins, Titusville, Pa., is teaching in the junior high school.

Margaret Seibert McIntyre, 575 Princeton Blvd., Wilksburg, Pa., has three children whom she classified as "prospective students."

Lucille Andrews Klumb, 130 Burlington Ave., Rochester, N. Y., has three sons and a daughter.

Alberta McGrew Brocker, Irwin, Pa., Box 72, has a son and daughter.

Alba June Clark Patterson, 211 Fenwich St., Rochester, N. Y., is the proud mother of three children.

Roy H. Ankeny, Apollo, Pa. After teaching school for three years, he served in the army in France in 1919. He was graduated in 1922 with B. A. degree. He did post graduate work in University of Pittsburgh. He has been the principal of the Apollo High School for the past twelve years. He married Florence Simpson of the 1917 class and they have a son and a daughter.

Vera Randall Douglass is living in Indiana, Pa. Her husband is still in the photographic business. I believe Vera told me that she had two children.

Adele Giammartini (Mrs. Carl F. Bauer, Jr.), 3827 Brighton Road, has a son Carl Eugene, and a daughter Elizabeth Adele. She is active in club and literary work.

The following people just gave me their names and addresses and I have no information to report about them:

Della Daugherty, 1003 Church St., Indiana, Pa. Smith College 1919.

Nelle Seyler (Mrs. John Jamison), McClellandtown, Pa.

Hazel Stephens, 2106 Columbia Ave., Swissvale, Pa.

Olive Shuster Lane, East Freedom, Pa.

Dorothy Aukerman Flick, 911 Howard Ave., Altoona, Pa.

Mary L. Esch is the efficient registrar of our Alma Mater. She serves also as treasurer of the Student Loan Fund and of the General Alumni Association. Her services in the reorganization of the Alumni have been invaluable. Mary is undoubtedly one of the busiest persons around the school. With her it is "Service with a smile."

Some of the members neglected giving me the information concerning themselves, so if you attended and I failed to mention your name, I hope you will not think I did it intentionally, as I listed all the names of the people who returned the slips to me.

(The very delightful account of the twenty-year reunion was written for the News by Adele Giammartini Bauer and the personal note at the end is from her.)

Ruth Young is now teaching dramatics in the Johnstown Senior High School. The result of her work was beautifully displayed in "The Pied Piper" given May 7, 8, 9, 10.

NECROLOGY

Veteran U. S. Court Clerk Is Dead

Funeral services for J. Wood Clark, veteran clerk of the Federal Court for Western Pennsylvania, who died in his home at 1623 Shady Avenue on March 6, 1935, were held at the home Friday evening, March 8, 1935. Following the services here, the body was removed to Indiana, Pa., where Mr. Clark was born 70 years ago, for services Saturday afternoon and interment.

Mr. Clark, whose full name was James Woodward Clark before he shortened it for the convenience of attorneys practicing in the district court, had been clerk of the court for 20 years. He had been in declining health for the last two years.

Born January 7, 1865, a son of Silas M. Clark, later a state supreme court justice, Mr. Clark attended Indiana State Normal School and graduated from Princeton University in 1886. After his return to his home, he taught ancient languages in the Indiana State Teachers College.

Mr. Clark studied law with Attorney Samuel Cunningham, who had succeeded to Judge Clark's practice when he was elevated to the supreme court bench. After his admission to the bar, Mr. Clark formed a partnership with Attorney Cunningham. This law firm continued until Mr. Clark was appointed to the clerkship in the district court of Western Pennsylvania in 1915. The selection was made by the district judges on January 1, during the term of President Woodrow Wilson.

A year after his appointment he married Mary Jane Crawford, of McKeesport, who is a member of the Pittsburgh Registration Commission and vice-chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee.

Mr. Clark twice sought public office as a Democratic candidate, first running for state senator and later for auditor general. For many years he was secretary of the board of directors of Indiana County Hospital and director of the Indiana Savings and Trust Company.

Besides his wife, Mr. Clark leaves a sister, Mrs. Walter B. Adams, of Burtonsville, Maryland.

Grace Miller Stewart, (Mrs. Wallace B. Stewart) passed away in Pittsburgh after a short illness on May 23, 1935. Mrs. Stewart had been House Director of John Sutton Hall for a number of years. She was highly efficient in her services and very lovely in her personal qualities. Students and faculty who so greatly appreciated Mrs. Stewart's worth will be deeply saddened to learn of her passing.

She leaves her husband and an infant son. Mrs. Williams was graduated with the class of 1931 and while here was a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha and Kappa Delta Pi. Funeral services were conducted in the home of her parents in Danville, Illinois.

These pages of the Alumni News are given over to news from the Alumni Units. A comparison of these reports with those of last year will show the development of the programs in the various clubs during their second year. Certainly no one will read these reports without a deep appreciation of the work which it has required to formulate and carry out the many activities reported by the different units.

THE SCHENLEY ALUMNI PARTY

June first was a red-letter day in Indiana Alumni history. It marked the date of the all-Indiana party—a date which had been set months in advance and for which all units had been planning. The weather was perfect and the Schenley Hotel was an ideal setting for the afternoon bridge which was attended by nearly one thousand alumni from many sections of the state. One cannot vouch for the expertness with which any one played bridge, but certainly the pleasure with which every one greeted old friends and the many expressions of enthusiasm for Indiana were clearly in evidence.

So large an event can be possible only through careful organization and planning in advance. The formulation of plans was under the direction of Mrs. Benjamin L. Steinberg, (Rhea Klineman) Vice President of the General Alumni Association, and it was due to her untiring work that the party was so great a success.

Working with Mrs. Steinberg as co-chairmen of various committees were Mrs. J. G. Bassett, secretary of the committee, Mrs. Ralph O. Pinkerton, Miss Nelle Maxwell, Miss Helen MacWilliams, Miss Helen Brennan, Mrs. Roy Baldrige, Mrs. Harold Hutchinson, Miss Mary Wyman, Miss Ethel Waddell, Mrs. Thomas Harvey, Miss Pearl Price, Mrs. John F. Cox, Miss Katherine Barnes, Miss Margaret Thomson, Miss Rose Brennan, Miss Catherine Thomson.

The units actively participating in the party were Altoona, Beaver Valley, Ambridge, Braddock, Chartiers Valley, Connellsville, South Hills, Duquesne, Ebensburg, Freeport, Greensburg, Indiana, Jeannette, North Boroughs, Pitcairn, Pittsburgh, Titusville, Uniontown, Verona, Washington, Wilksburg, Munhall, Clymer, Leechburg.

The list of patrons and patronesses follows:

Mr. A. B. Angney—Pittsburgh

Mr. J. C. Trees—Pittsburgh

Miss Mary Wyman—Pittsburgh

Miss Mary Nelson—Pittsburgh

Mrs. Fred J. France—Pittsburgh

Miss Myrtle Foale—Pittsburgh

Mrs. D. N. Bulford—Pittsburgh
Mrs. Corinne Menk Wahr—Pittsburgh
Mrs. A. E. Proper—Pittsburgh
Mrs. Josephine Scott McNaugher—Pittsburgh
Mrs. Benjamine L. Steinberg—Pittsburgh
Mr. E. M. Johnston—Ebensburg
Mrs. Gladys Bash Evans—Ebensburg
Mrs. Chas. Hassan—Ebensburg
Mrs. Nettie Corben Rice—Ebensburg
Mrs. Naomi Gray Baumgartel—Ebensburg
Mr. T. Lawrence Edwards—Ebensburg
Mr. Henry L. Cannon—Ebensburg
Mr. Cyrus Davis—Conemaugh, Pa.
Mrs. C. I. McCartney—Altoona
Mrs. Pauline Block Bamberger—Cleveland, Ohio
Mrs. Emma Pierce Jackson—Cleveland, Ohio
Miss Esther McAfee—Chartiers Valley Unit
Mrs. Harry Crider—Philadelphia, Pa.
Mr. David I. Johnston—Oklahoma City, Okla.
Miss Vera Simpson—Indiana, Pa.
Judge Chas. E. Whitten—Greensburg, Pa.
Mrs. John Jordan, Jr.—Erie, Pa.

Undoubtedly the success of the party was due in no small measure to the purpose for which it was given. The proceeds are to be placed in the Jane E. Leonard Memorial Student Loan Fund. This is a revolving fund and consequently as a result of this very fine social event at least one student will be able to attend Indiana each year from this addition to the Loan Fund.

ACTIVITIES REPORTS

Chartiers Valley Unit

The Chartiers Valley Unit has gone traveling this year. "The Personality of the Yellowstone," a splendid talk given by Miss Pearl Weston, was enjoyed in the October meeting of our unit.

An informal travel talk on her Mediterranean cruise by Mrs. Ernest Crist entertained the group during the January meeting.

Simultaneous bridge parties netted the group a nice sum of money. Gifts of $10 to help in publishing the Alumni News and $30 to the Jane Leonard Memorial Fund were given to the College during the year.

Windber Unit

The Windber Unit was off to a good start with its organization meeting in November. Miss Vera Simpson, President of the General Alumni Association, Mr. Joseph Uhler, and Mr. L. C. Davis attended the meeting and assisted in the work of organization. This meeting was well attended and a real Indiana atmosphere prevailed.

A business and social meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Mary Mickel. A Valentine party was held in Johnstown and a St. Patrick's Day party in Windber.

A group from the Windber Unit met with the Somerset Unit at Stoyestown. This was a dinner meeting and proved most enjoyable.

Lawrence County Unit

The Lawrence County Unit has been very active during the current year. Five meetings were held during the year—May, September, November, January, and March. All meetings are held in the homes of members. Programs have been varied and interesting. They have included talks on art, birds of the local area, and a play. At one meeting two of the faculty members from Westminster College gave the program. A donation to the Student Loan Fund is to be raised by a play given by kindergarten children under the direction of Margaret Ramsey Whieldon (1922).

DuBois Unit

The DuBois Unit was organized October 10, 1934, at a dinner meeting. Miss Vera Simpson, President of the General Alumni Association, Miss Jane McGrath, and Mr. L. C. Davis, members of the college faculty were present to assist in the work of organization. This meeting was well attended.

A second dinner meeting was held in March at which a varied program was presented. It was featured by a talk by Mr. Willard Grubbs, a member of the high school faculty, on his trip abroad.

McKeesport Unit

The McKeesport Unit of the Indiana Alumni Association opened its fall activities with a Style Show on Friday evening, September 28, in the Masonic Temple auditorium. Miss Selma Herskowitz directed the music and Miss Alice Jean Smith gave a reading. Members of the local unit modeled the dresses and gowns furnished by one of the prominent local stores. Miss Ruth Smith and Miss Dorothy Porter headed the committee in charge of the affair. About 250 people attended.

On Saturday, October 6, the organization held a business luncheon at the United Presbyterian Church. A business meeting followed a delicious luncheon at which time it was decided to elect a board of directors of five members to act with the officers on all business.

Those elected were: Mrs. Elizabeth Newlin (1888), Mrs. John A. Caughey (1899), Mrs. Merle Bedell Scott (1908), Mrs. Hazel Peacock Russell (1919), Miss Mary Jane Kearney (1929). The association then agreed to send $25 to the Jane E. Leonard Memorial Fund to be presented at the Executive Council Meeting at Indiana on October 20, making a total of $50 contributed in 1934.

Mrs. Margaretta Bell Getty was chairman of the luncheon committee.

Mrs. John C. Norton, president of the local unit, gave a bridge tea for members only at her home on Saturday, December 1. Prizes were awarded at the end of the bridge play followed by tea served from a beautifully decorated table at which Mrs. John A. Caughey and Miss Margaret Russel presided.

Both auction and contract bridge were played by the 67 members of the local unit at a bridge luncheon Saturday afternoon, February 2, at Weddell's tea room on the Long Run Road. Also present at the affair were local women affiliated with Indiana State Teachers College, who were not members of the association.

Miss Dorothy Sieber, chairman, was assisted by Mrs. E. S. Bracken, Miss Mabel Kirshner, Miss Lucille Vaughan, Mrs. Julia Jackson, Miss Elizabeth Henderson, and Miss Helen Walker.

Saturday afternoon, March 2, was announced at the luncheon as the date for a dessert bridge the unit will sponsor in Masonic Temple auditorium, for the benefit of the Jane E. Leonard Memorial Fund.

Uniontown Unit

The Uniontown Unit had a delightful informal tea at the home of Carolyn Henderson, Derrick Road, December 27. There were fifty alumni present. Special guests included the girls home for vacation and the Misses Mary Hart and Mary Lowman of the Indiana faculty.

During January, a very successful membership drive was conducted.

On April 9, a group of seventy-five enjoyed a spring banquet served in the Methodist Episcopal Church. Special guests included Dr. C. R. Foster, Miss Vera Simpson, and Miss Mary Lowman of Indiana. The two oldest graduates present were Mrs. W. J. Lyons of the class of 1892 and Albert Montgomery of the class of 1895. Judge and Mrs. D. W. Henderson were made honorary members of our group. Dr. Foster addressed the group on "Problems Confronting Our Teachers Colleges."

Beaver Valley Unit

The Beaver Valley Unit is scattered, but perhaps for that very reason the meetings prove highly enjoyable. These meetings are held in different localities in the homes of members of the unit. The first meeting of the year was a business meeting and bridge held at the home of Mrs. Goetz in Aliquippa. A second bridge party was held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Shaffer in New Brighton. Differing from these two meetings was the musical held at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Sebring of Beaver. All of the meetings were well attended, and everyone enjoyed meeting and conversing with old and new Indiana friends.

Alpha Unit (Oakmont-Verona)

During the Christmas vacation the Alpha Unit entertained the present students and prospective students of Indiana who live in our vicinity. The entertainment was in the form of a tea at the home of Margaret Schaney Peters.

In March we had a "Pot Luck" dinner and bridge. Both events were occasions for renewal of friendships and much talk about Indiana.

Somerset Unit

At the fall dinner party, which was held at The Hite House in Stoyestown, the members were delighted to welcome many alumni from Windber. Miss Ella King Vogel and Mr. Thomas Itell entertained with stories of early Indiana days.

The spring banquet was held on May 3, 1935, at Hollywood Inn, near Berlin, Pennsylvania. The guest speakers were Miss Vera Simpson and Miss Mary Lowman. The Inn formed a very attractive setting for the dinner and bridge which followed.

The Hooversville group and the Jennerstown group each sponsored a benefit bridge party and each made a contribution to the Jane E. Leonard Memorial Student Loan Fund.

To our widely scattered but most enthusiastic group the announcement of a picnic in September will mean a delightful beginning of another worth while year of interesting activities.

Connellsville Unit

A dinner meeting was held in the Methodist Protestant Church on February 7. Twenty-nine members attended, and a delightful musical program followed the dinner. Mrs. Joseph A. Lerew (Grace Workman—'16) entertained at bridge later in the evening.

From March 1 to April 1, the members conducted a raffle on a boudoir lamp and raised fifteen dollars for the Jane E. Leonard Memorial Fund.

The business meeting for election of officers was held Monday evening, April 15.

Duquesne Unit

The Duquesne Unit met October 8, 1934, for the purpose of electing officers for the year 1934-1935. On March 21, the second annual banquet was held. Dr. J. B. Richey, Superintendent of Schools in McKeesport, was the speaker. A business meeting followed at which time legislative matters were discussed and plans made for a spring party to be conducted by the men of the Unit.

Clymer Unit

During the year 1934-35 the Clymer Unit of Indiana State Teachers College held five business meetings. At the beginning of the year our program included three major events—a public card party, a tea for prospective students to Indiana, and a dinner for the thirty-three members of our unit and their families.

February 18, we had our card party in celebration of George Washington's birthday. The Moose Temple at Clymer was decorated in red, white, and blue. At the door each guest was given a name card—hatchets for the men, cherries for the women. Tallies and score pads were made in the form of Washington's silhouette. The guests played bridge, 500, and flinch. Two door prizes, four high score prizes were given—one for men, one for women at the bridge table and 500 tables. The party was a success.

Our next activity was a tea planned for Easter vacation. Unfortunately, illness and other unforeseen events intervened. The tea is still planned but it will not be given until next year.

From the Clymer Unit, Indiana will enroll for the 1935 summer session Geraldine Bianco, Class of '31; Mrs. Ann (Dixon) Fisher, Class of '27; Harry L. Clawson, Class of '30; Max Harwick, Class of '32; Gladys Wille, Class of '31. After the summer session is over, Gladys Wille and Ann Fisher say they are going camping in the woods—that is, woods where there are no snakes! Do you remember Ann's horror of them?

After a delightful three months spent in California last summer, Marion Hohnke, Class of '31, and Jean Marlin, Class of '33, say it will be difficult just to "sit at home."

This is the most active year the Clymer Unit has had since its organization. With this small beginning, we are looking "for greater worlds to conquer."

Freeport Unit

Freeport has a College Club of fifty members, twenty of whom are Indiana graduates. The Indiana Club works with the College Club, for most members are on the roll of each organization. The College Club gives a tea each spring for the high school seniors. Each member of the club gives a short talk for her particular school. Indiana is way out in front with boosters. Our legislative program was carefully worked out, and the matter of school legislation was discussed with the district assemblymen.

Pitcairn Unit

The Pitcairn Alumni Unit held a banquet in the Presbyterian Church of Pitcairn, January 25, 1935. The purpose was to organize a unit in this valley. We were very much encouraged with seventy alumni present.

After-dinner speeches were given by Dr. Charles R. Foster, President of Indiana State Teachers College, Miss Vera Simpson, President of the General Alumni Association, and Miss Lillian McLean. At this meeting Mr. R. L. Roose, supervising principal of the Pitcairn Schools, was made an honorary member of the unit.

The spring business and social meeting of the unit was held Thursday evening, May 16, 1935, with forty alumni present. Following the business meeting those present enjoyed a delightful social hour. Ours is a new unit, and the progress this first year has been most encouraging.

South Hills Unit

The South Hills Unit has been most active during the second year under the new plan of organization. To write in detail of all the interesting activities would require too long; hence they are recorded here in calendar form.

November 16, 1934—Social meeting at the home of Mrs. Clifford Meyer, 38 W. Marlin Drive, Mt. Lebanon, Pennsylvania.

December, 1934—Benefit bridge at Dormont New Century Club.

January, 1935—Social meeting at home of Mrs. Arch Copeland, 54 Hoodridge Street, Mt. Lebanon, Pennsylvania.

March, 1935—Special business meeting at Hillsdale School.

April, 1935—Benefit bridge at home of Mrs. Raymond Giles, Mt. Lebanon, Pennsylvania.

May, 1935—President's luncheon and election of officers at St. Clair Country Club, Mt. Lebanon.

Wilkesburg Unit

The Wilkesburg Unit has had a most successful year. In keeping with the general plan three activities were initiated during the year. In September a tea and business meeting was held. At this meeting officers were elected and plans made for the year. The feature activity of the year was the dessert bridge which was held at Christmas time and to which present Indiana students were invited. The program for the year was closed in April with a very successful bridge party.

Elk and McKean County Unit

Calendar

Fall meeting ..... Ridgway, Pa.

Winter meeting ..... Kane, Pa.

Spring meeting ..... St. Marys, Pa.

Editor's note—This very active unit is following most successfully a plan which I should like to see followed in our more scattered areas; namely, that of organizing a large district and then holding meetings at strategic points.

Johnstown Unit

A committee meeting was called by the president, Arthur Stull, for March 20, 1935, at the home of Miss Clarice Grumblin, for the purpose of making final arrangements for a dinner to be held at the Fort Stanwix Hotel, March 28, 1935.

While the meeting was in session, our attention was called to an item in the Tribune—"Forty Years Ago."

March 19, 1895

"Saturday afternoon the graduates of the Indiana Normal School residing in Johnstown and vicinity met in Cambria Library Hall and arranged for a banquet at the Capitol Hotel on the evening of March 29. Dr. Waller, principal of the Indiana Normal School; Miss Jane E. Leonard, the preceptress, and Dr. Schmucker and Mr. M. C. Gordon will be invited guests. It is the desire of the alumni to effect a permanent organization at the banquet."

The significant part of the item was the fact that the meeting "Forty Years Ago," was March 19; ours was March 28, 1935. Our dinner was held March 28, 1935—the dinner then March 29, 1895.

The Johnstown Unit met at a dinner in the main dining room of the Fort Stanwix Hotel, March 28, 1935, at 6:30 p.m.

The meeting was in charge of the president, Dr. Arthur Stull of the Dale School System.

An interesting address was given by Dr. Charles Foster, president of the Indiana State Teachers College. Other speakers included Mrs. Albert Seigh, H. S. Bender, J. M. Uhler of Indiana, and Attorney H. W. Stull. Miss Mary Lowman, of the Music Department of Indiana, led group singing. Marion Schnabel was the pianist.

Musical entertainment was provided by Paul Kent, pianist, and William Pasarchic, violinist.

The committee which helped make the dinner possible were Mary Lockard, Clarice Grumbling, Alice West Ling, Florence G. Statler, Florence Patch, Thelma Richards, Ruth Boden, Lillie Harris, Madge Boden Rose, Mary Eckel Zolbe, and Salome Cartwright.

An informal reception was held May 20, 1935, from eight to ten p. m. on the third floor of the Y. M. C. A.

The reception was planned as a means of contacting seniors in the high schools of the Johnstown area, who are prospective college students, and as a farewell party to students from the College, who are completing their practice teaching in Johnstown.

The musical program was planned by Mr. Charles Aikey of the Johnstown Senior High School Music Department. Miss Mary Scanlan, of the Music Department of the Joseph Johns Junior High, and Miss Marion Schnabel of the Music Department of the Garfield Junior High School, all on the musical program being pupils at one of these three buildings.

The faculty present from Indiana were: J. M. Uhler, who spoke on the "Curricula"; Dr. Richard E. Madden, "Extra Curricular Activities"; Miss Mary Esch, "Registration and Personal Interviews"; Miss Ethel Farrell, "The Plant"; and Miss Vera Simpson, President of the Indiana State Teachers College Alumni Association, "Personalities."

A social hour followed, during which a lunch was served by three of the home economics girls doing student teaching in Johnstown, namely, Ruth F. Evans, Dorothy Shannon, and Katherine Bame.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Miss Florence G. Statler.

Washington County Unit

We have had three meetings this year, of which one was addressed by Howard Iams, a man whose paintings are finding recognition both in America and Europe—and two luncheons with bridge afterwards. These have been very delightful and well attended.

Pittsburgh Unit

The Pittsburgh Unit of the Indiana Alumni was organized in Pittsburgh, March 13, 1934, at the College Club to foster good fellowship, to promote social activities, to raise money for the student loan fund, and to express loyalty to our Alma Mater—Indiana State Teachers College. This Unit has a membership which is made up of Indiana graduates and associate members from the city of Pittsburgh and fourteen districts surrounding Pittsburgh.

On Tuesday evening, May 22, 1934, the Pittsburgh Unit of the Indiana State Teachers College held a benefit bridge at the home of Misses Helen and Rose Brennan of 952 North Negley Avenue. About fifty members and their friends attended and the proceeds were given to the unit for the Indiana Student Loan Fund.—Rose Brennan, Highland Park District Representative.

The benefit bridge party held Saturday afternoon, October 6, in the Edgewood Country Club was one of our most successful affairs as to attendance and financial result. Even though this benefit was planned and given by the Pittsburgh Unit, members from the other units responded generously. We appreciate this response and when it is their turn we hope to reciprocate. We were pleased to send a splendid financial report to Indiana.—Florence Berkey Nance, Chairman.

A small but very successful bridge-luncheon was held by the Pittsburgh Unit at Rosenbaum's on December 7, 1934. A unique feature of this party was the radio broadcast made possible by Rosenbaum's and radio station KQV. Mrs. Paul J. Beck, chairman of this affair, spoke a word of welcome to the attending members and guests and sent greetings to members and friends of the Unit over the radio. Forty persons attended.—Mrs. Paul J. Beck, Oakland District Representative.

The Pittsburgh Unit had a very delightful musicale tea at the Pittsburgh College Club, December 27, 1934. Mrs. Paul Murray, President of the Unit, and Miss Helen Brennan, Vice President, assisted by Mrs. Ogden, Mrs. Patton, Mrs. McNaugher, and Mrs. McKee of the fifty-year class, Mrs. Logan S. Rugh, general chairman, and Mrs. Bulford, Legislative Chairman, received the guests and their friends in the Reception Room.

Mrs. Murray gave a short address of welcome to the Seniors and prospective students of Indiana, who were the guests at the tea. A most delightful musical hour followed, after which tea and delicious sandwiches were served. Mrs. McNaugher, Mrs. Ogden, Mrs. Patton, and Mrs. McKee poured. The tea table was very beautifully arranged with red candles and American Beauty roses. A very delightful social hour followed.—Helen McLeod, Chairman and Squirrel Hill District Representative.

Two additional social events were held by the Pittsburgh Unit. On March 4, a breakfast dance and card party was given at the Hotel Schenley. All proceeds from this social activity were added to the Jane E. Leonard Fund. A special invitation was extended to Indiana faculty and friends to attend this social function, which proved to be one of the best of the year. Mrs. Logan S. Rugh as general chairman worked tirelessly to further the success of the party. It is a function which should prove popular another year.

The event toward which we all looked with much interest was the Officers' Dinner, which was held in March. Some of the members have suggested that we make this Officers' Dinner an annual activity. The dinner, held at Hotel Roosevelt, was attended by Miss Vera Simpson, President of the General Alumni Association, and Miss Angie Marshall and Miss Mary Hart of Indiana. It proved to be a most delightful occasion. Mrs. Marie Scott Murray, the retiring president, was presented with a lovely bracelet in appreciation of her work in the Unit.

As was pointed out previously, the Pittsburgh Unit was organized to promote good fellowship, to foster the spirit in Indiana, and to raise funds for the Jane E. Leonard Student Memorial Fund. We feel these purposes have been achieved. A check for $100 has been turned over to the Jane E. Leonard Fund as tangible evidence of success. This contribution was made possible because of the loyalty and enthusiasm on the part of the local representatives from each district which make up the unit's council along with the officers of the Unit. Commendation at this time goes not only to the representatives and officers, but much appreciation is extended to our own unit members and to the members of our other units of surrounding boroughs, who have co-operated in such a splendid manner.

At the Officers' Dinner, Mrs. Edith Salisbury Miller was made President of the Unit. Under her leadership, activities were continued.

An impromptu Bridge Luncheon was held at Rosenbaum's, Thursday, April 18, 1935, the proceeds of which were donated to the Alumni Fund. Mrs. J. Ray Miller spoke over the radio a few words of greeting to the members and guests who were present and to those who were listening in. Included in her address was a brief outline of the aim and ambition of the General Alumni, of which the Pittsburgh Unit is a group. One of these aims is to build up the Jane E. Leonard Memorial Scholarship Fund in the hopes of furthering, through this worth while activity, the high standards of the school.

Two meetings have been held since the Unit's election of officers in March, the first, at the home of the new president, Mrs. J. Ray Miller. One of the high lights of this meeting was an informal talk by Mrs. Bulford on the work of the Legislative Committee of which she is chairman.

It was decided at this time to hold a Rummage Sale, May 10 in East Liberty. Mrs. Dick Crawford was appointed chairman of this sale, the proceeds of which were given to the Student Loan Fund.

The second meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Arch Nance. At this meeting, it was voted to send $50 for the Student Loan Fund, which was realized from the Rummage Sale; $25 was also contributed to help in the printing of the Alumni News Bulletin, and an additional sum of $10 in dues was sent in at this time.

Leechburg Unit

Although our unit is not a large one we feel that we have made some progress during the past year. We have held several business meetings and after much consideration a constitution has been formulated and adopted. We also have a very active legislative committee.

Our social events have been a get-together party in the high school building February 21, 1935, and a banquet and entertainment in the Presbyterian Church May 10, 1935. Both events were well attended and thoroughly enjoyed. Miss Marshall, Miss Wagner, Miss Margaret Lowman, Mr. and Mrs. McLuckie, and Mr. Uhler of the College faculty, attended this banquet.

Jeannette Unit

On September 27, 1934, the regular fall meeting of the Jeannette Unit of the Indiana State Teachers College was held in the Municipal Building. After the election of officers the president, Lillian Stahl, discussed the plans for a benefit card party. There were twenty-eight members present.

Thirty-eight tables of bridge were at play in the Municipal Building on Friday, November 23, 1934. There were attractive door prizes as well as a prize for each table.

On April 25, 1935, a spring banquet was held in the Crystal Room of the Penn Albert Hotel in Greensburg. Red and slate programs and individual corsages decorated the long banquet tables. Mrs. Mae Coen led group singing, accompanied by Evelyn Klingensmith. Guest speakers were Miss Myrtle Hesse, Miss Lillian McLean, Miss Jane McGrath, Mr. L. C. Davis, and Dean Matthew J. Walsh. Mrs. Rhea Steinberg, Vice-President of the General Alumni Association, Pittsburgh, invited the girls to attend a benefit card party Saturday, June 1, at the Hotel Schenley, Pittsburgh. The committee in charge of the banquet were Lillian Stahl, Mrs. Marie Evans, Evelyn Klingensmith, Josephine Everly, and Mrs. Mae Coen.

Ebensburg Unit

Two meetings were held during the year. The first was a business meeting. On May 20, 1935, a dinner meeting was held at Miss Gallaher's home. Miss Marshall and Miss Hart from the College brought greetings to us from Indiana and gave short discussions concerning the alumni organization, and the Student Loan Fund. Miss Bash also attended this meeting.

Greensburg Unit

The Unit held two meetings during the year. Under the direction of Mrs. Charles M. Jamison a bridge-benefit was held December 4, 1934. This was well attended and highly successful.

The annual meeting and election of officers was held May 22, 1935. The social program was under the direction of Mrs. Kathleen Bailey Foust. Dr. Charles R. Foster and Judge Charles E. Whitten were the speakers.

Altoona Unit

The Altoona Unit opened its new year at a meeting in the Altoona Senior High School on October 1, 1934, at which Mrs. C. J. Rodgers was elected president; Miss Clara Cockerille, vice-president; Miss Marian Hoffman, secretary; Miss Margaret Hutchison, treasurer. Delegates to the general executive council were elected as follows: Mrs. C. J. Rodgers, Miss Mary Sell, Miss Elizabeth Eyre, Miss Mary Louise Jamison; social chairman, Miss Alma Eberle; membership, Miss Elizabeth Eyre; publicity and historian, Miss Mary Louise Jamison. After the business was attended to there was a short entertainment consisting of songs and readings.

The membership drive succeeded in rounding up 170 members. Dues were turned in at the general meeting at Indiana on October 20, 1934. Altoona was well represented at this "home-coming" event at Indiana.

December 28 brought together graduates and students of Indiana who live in Altoona or near, at the annual Christmas party held at the Penn Alto Hotel. Dinner was served in the Logan room which was appropriately decorated in Christmas colors for the gala occasion. Miss Inez Buchanan and Miss Nelle Ayers were guests of honor. There was entertainment after the meal and at 9 o'clock dancing and cards became the feature of the evening.

The January meeting of the association was strictly business. Reports of different committees were given and items of interest discussed.

The Altoona chapter sponsored a St. Patrick's Day bridge party March 13, 1935, at the Penn Alto. Mrs. Chester McCartney, who was acting social chairman due to the illness of Miss Alma Eberle, greeted the guests. Miss Genevieve Lytle gave two Irish readings. Mrs. C. J. Rodgers, our president, sang "Mother Machree" and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling." Door and table prizes were awarded.

April 2 marked the final meeting of the Altoona branch. A play "The Bore" was presented by four junior high students under the direction of Miss Carolyn Cox. Delicious refreshments were served. The party in Pittsburgh on June 1 was discussed. Mrs. C. J. Rodgers, Mrs. Chester McCartney and Miss Mary Louise Jamison were selected to represent Altoona there. Plans were also laid for a garden party in June. We reprint here the newspaper report of the garden party last June.

GARDEN PARTY IS HELD BY ALUMNI

Upwards of 100 people, including members and guests from Altoona, Hollidaysburg, Roaring Spring, Tyrone, Williamsburg and Butler attended the garden party sponsored by the Altoona branch of the Indiana Alumni Association yesterday afternoon and evening on the grounds of the Towne House, Allegheny Furnace.

Dinner was served at 1 o'clock under the direction of Miss Faye McCoy to open the party activities. Tables were arranged under the spreading trees and were attractively decorated with garden flowers of various hues.

Clement Hershey, of Juniata, entertained with several piano accordion selections, presenting "Memories," "Little Dutch Mill" and "Song of Love."

Bridge was enjoyed during the remainder of the afternoon and prizes were awarded to the highest scorers at each table. Arrangements for the delightful event were in charge of the following:

Mrs. C. J. Rodgers, president of the association; Miss Alma Eberle, chairman of the social committee; Mrs. Harry E. Slep, Mrs. Lee Hills, Miss Evelyn Anspach, Miss Olive Harlin, Miss Emma Gieg, Miss Margaret Hutchison, Mrs. R. E. Meeck, Miss Clara Cockerille, Miss Grace Morrow, Miss Marian Hoffman, Miss Elizabeth Eyre and Miss Mary Louise Jamison.

Tarentum Unit

The activities of the Tarentum Unit opened with a card party in December. The February meeting of the Unit was held in the form of a luncheon at the Rose Tea Room, Tarentum, Pa.

An old fashioned basket picnic was held June 2, 1934, at Mrs. Wilma Warner's summer home, "The Solitude."

Mrs. Dorothy Felmley Rickart of Waterbury, Conn., is an associate member of the Tarentum Unit.

Ambridge Unit

The Ambridge Unit was organized in December. Three business and two social meetings were held during the year. Activities consistent with the aims of the General Association were carried on. Legislative work received the attention of the group and senators and representatives were contacted by letter and telegram.

Homestead Unit

During the winter regular monthly meetings of the Homestead Unit were held at the homes of the members. After the business sessions bridge was the diversion of the evenings.

In the month of May, Mrs. Fremont Cox (Mary Lou Rinaman) and Miss Roberta Cox entertained the Council of the Pittsburgh Unit at Miss Cox's home. A very enjoyable evening was spent.

June the fifth a banquet was held at the Tea Cup Inn in Homestead to mark the close of the winter meetings. Thirty-two Indiana Alumni were present including several members of the Pittsburgh Unit.

After the dinner, for a short time, those present spent pleasant minutes in reminiscences of days at Indiana. During the latter part of the evening bridge was enjoyed with many attractive favors being awarded the high scorers.

Braddock Unit

The Braddock Unit started the year's activities with a corn roast early in September. On October 29, a Hallowe'en party was held in the social room of Hamilton School. This was a masked party and proved a most enjoyable event. Miss Nelle Dixon was in charge of arrangements. The Christmas party held in Hamilton School was arranged for by Miss Ruth Ogden. Gifts were exchanged and a social evening was enjoyed.

On January 30 a benefit bridge was held at the Edgar Thompson Club House in Braddock. Forty-four tables were in play and twenty-five dollars was sent to the Jane E. Leonard Memorial Student Loan Fund. Mrs. Eva R. Brown was general chairman with Mrs. Kathrine Jordan McBride in charge of refreshments.

In March a business meeting was held at which time officers were elected. Plans were made to use the club room being furnished by the Woman's Club in the library building for meetings. A permanent meeting place will add much to the efficient work of the unit. At this meeting Miss Nelle Dixon was appointed Legislative Chairman.

The April meeting was held at the Royal Tea Room. The program was in charge of Eleanor Remaley. At the same place the second Annual Dinner of the Unit was served on May 7. The meeting took the form of a surprise shower for Miss Lillias Wilson. Forty guests were present and the honor guest was the recipient of as many beautiful gifts. Miss Alice Lawhead had general charge of this meeting. The entire unit was invited to attend the wedding of Miss Lillias Wilson on Monday, June 17, 1935, in the First Presbyterian Church. Miss Wilson was married to Charles Albert Wilcher. Mr. and Mrs. Wilcher will reside in Braddock.

For the June meeting a picnic was planned. It was held in the grove near the home of Dessalee Rees on June 25.

The reporter for the Braddock Unit adds a note saying that while none of these events were especially large, they did have a very good time and all of the members are looking forward to another pleasant year.

Blairsville Unit

The Blairsville Unit of the Indiana Alumni Association began its fall activities by a dinner meeting, served by the Social Club of the Presbyterian Church. About 60 were present. After a very good dinner and the general routine of business, we were entertained by Mr. E. J. McLuckie of the State Teachers College. Mr. McLuckie's singing was enjoyed greatly.

A few weeks later the unit held a bake sale. The members responded very well and $10.00 was cleared from the sale.

In February our unit suffered a great loss. Miss Margaret North, our president and head of the home economics department of the Blairsville Schools, resigned to accept a similar position in Westinghouse High School, Pittsburgh.

In March a party was held by the unit. It proved to be both entertaining and profitable. About 125 Alumni and friends were present.

Our annual business meeting was held in April.

In addition to our regular dues, we have contributed $27.50 to the Student Loan Fund and $2.50 towards the publication of the Alumni News.

North Boroughs Unit

As our By-laws were not adopted until May, 1934, the acting officers were elected for the following year of 1934-35: Edna Freeman St. Clair, president; Marie Dempsey, vice-president; Nelle Hudson, secretary; and Mary Wyman, treasurer. Representatives elected were Ethel Waddell, Agnes Douds Bulford, and Caroline Lauman, who also served as District Chairman of the Sewickley district. The other district chairmen were: Adele Giammartini Bauer, Brighton Road district; Marian Vero Weber, Perrysville Avenue district; Gertrude Holman, Bellevue; Marjorie Canning, West View; Charlotte McCutcheon, Avalon; and Edith Spencer Ferguson, Ben-Avon. Anna Barr Pinkerton was appointed chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

The above executive committee arranged the fall meeting in October: a musical tea at the American Legion Hall in Avalon. Ruth Forney Gross, an alumnus, and Mrs. Hannah Forney were the soloists; Mrs. John Bush, the reader. About 80 persons enjoyed the program which was followed by tea.

The winter meeting, held in February at the Congress of Women's Clubs, was in the form of a Benefit-bridge for the Jane E. Leonard Student Loan Fund. About 175 persons attended. Miss Vera Simpson, president of the Alumni Association was present. The proceeds amounted to fifty dollars.

The Spring meeting was held at the Home Arts Studio at Rosenbaum's in May. The annual business meeting and election of officers followed luncheon; the balance of the afternoon was devoted to bridge. We were pleased to have with us Miss Hope Stewart, Dean of Women, Miss Jennie M. Ackerman, Director of Training; Miss Mary Lowman, Miss O'Toole, Miss McGrath, Miss Mahachek, Miss Farrell and Mrs. Bartholomew representing the faculty, and Mrs. Robert Fisher and Master John Fisher.

The members of this unit enthusiastically supported the all-unit benefit at the Hotel Schenley in June, selling $89.00 worth of tickets.

During the year ten executive committee meetings were held at the homes of the members.
